THE LATEST DISPATCHES.

LONDON, May 20.—In an effort to improve the serious meat situation, the German military authorities have decided to requisition 100,000 head of cattle and 20,000 pigs in Poland. This, says a dispatch, "has caused a panic among the Poles."

PETROGRAD, May 12.—Grave events are reported from Manchuria, where the trans-Baikal Cossacks, opposed to the Soviets and fighting under Gen. Semenoff have joined forces with Chinese detachments and are marching on Chita. The Chita Soviet is raising a force to oppose Gen. Semenoff's advance.

CLEVELAND (O.) May 20.—An agreement tantamount to a contract to build 120 vessels to cost approximately $400,000 each and totaling about $100,000,000, was reached here today between Charles M. Schwab, director-general of the government's shipbuilding programme, and Great Lakes shipbuilding companies.

LONDON, May 20.—Besides the four air raiders already announced as having been destroyed during the air raid on London last night, a fifth was brought down and fell flaming in the sea. Two others also are reported to have fallen at sea, but definite confirmation of this is lacking, according to a supplementary statement issued by the War Office tonight.

SINK SHIPS OF NORWAY

U-Boat Terrorism in New Quarter.

Vessels Shelled Without Warning and Lifeboats are Fired Upon.

Russian Fishing Craft and Mail Steamer also Hit, Passengers Slain.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

CHRISTIANIA (Norway) May 20.—German submarines again have started unrestricted warfare on Norwegian fishing boats in the Arctic Ocean, north and east of the Norwegian coast. Fishermen saved from sunken vessels and landed at Hammerfest report that the commander of a U-boat stated that all vessels met by him would be sunk. Norwegian ships especially would be destroyed, because, he said, the Norwegians were sending fish oil and seal oil to England. This, however, is contrary to the truth, as the export of oils is forbidden and Germany knows it.

The U-boats are said to shell vessels without warning, and, according to the survivors, direct a fire against lifeboats.

Russian fishing boats and a Russian mail steamer from Vardoe, eastward bound, and overcrowded with passengers, also were shelled. Eight persons, among them a postmaster and his assistants, were killed on the deck of the steamer.

Many others were hurt while taking to the boats.

While the commander of one German submarine was advised that Russia was at peace with Germany, he answered that he acted the way it suited him. The U-boat measured 180 feet in length, and surprise is caused in shipping circles that it can carry enough oil for a cruise so far up the Norwegian coast.

Great bitterness has been caused among the Norwegian population by the action of the submarines, as Germany gets a large part of the fish caught around these places. The newspapers suggest that fishermen stop selling their catch to Germany.

CHRISTIANIA, May 20.—The Aftonposten says that twenty-two men have been brought to Vaida Bay from one of the fishing boats sunk in the Arctic by the German submarines.

Great anxiety is felt for forty other fishing boats carrying crews totaling 500 men. It is known that at least five boats already have been sent to the bottom.

The passenger steamer which was shelled by the Germans, according to the Aftonposten, was lying in harbor at the time.

EX-VICE-PRESIDENT FAIRBANKS VERY ILL.

INDIANAPOLIS, May 20.—Charles W. Fairbanks, former Vice-President of the United States, is critically ill at his home here with Bright's disease.

His condition was better today than for a few days past, it was reported, but physicians stated tonight that he may not recover.

BREAD OUTLOOK MAKES FOE BLUE.

Announcement of Reduction in Ration Causes Widespread Pessimism.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 20.—Announcement that the bread ration was to be reduced on June 15 has caused grave apprehension throughout Germany.

An official dispatch today from Switzerland says that even the governmental press has adopted a tone no less pessimistic than that of the Socialist papers, which foresee a great diminishing of the physical and general force which helps in supporting the hardships of the fourth year of the war.

"The government is taking a step which is bound to disturb the life of our war diets," the dispatch quotes from the Berlin Vorwaerts, the leading Socialist organ.

CANNERS LOSE APPEAL.

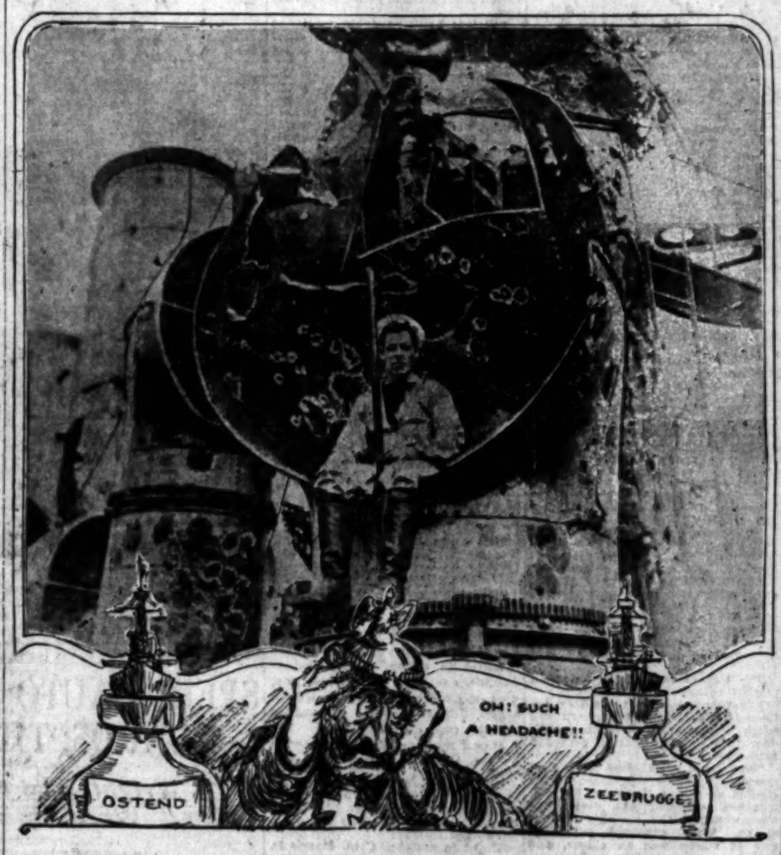
Judgment Obtained by Patentees of Method of Peeling Fruit Sustained.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 20.—The United States Circuit Court of Appeals declined, in a decision handed down today, to set aside judgments against the Central California Canneries obtained by Dunkley & Co. patentees of a method of peeling fruit. Francis J. Heney, attorney for the canneries concern, made the basis of his petition the claim that at the time the action was tried, Dunkley & Co. had already disposed of their interest in the patents to others.

The court held that Mr. Heney could petition the Federal district court in Los Angeles to include the present owners of the patents as plaintiffs, the Dunkley company having petioned for the dismissal of the suits on the ground that they were no longer interested.

Close-up H.M.S. Vindictive, Now Corking Ostend Channel.



Sent to the bottom to thwart the German submarine.

The British cruiser Vindictive played an important role in the raid on Zeebrugge and later in the second raid on Ostend. In the latter engagement she was loaded with cement and sunk in the roadway of the harbor, completely blocking it to the passage of U-boats. The photo shows the fore funnel of the vessel after the first engagement.

"TIMES" MAN, IN STEEL WAR BONNET, WITNESSES HOT FIGHTING IN LORRAINE.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS,
The Times' Own War Correspondent in France.
[SPECIAL CABLE.]

ON THE AMERICAN FRONT IN FRANCE, May 20.—Fortified with gas masks and a steel helmet I today witnessed a hot artillery duel between the Americans and the Germans in Lorraine.

I was in a sector where the fighting was hottest but I didn't get even a dent in my war bonnet.

Our bullseye boys gave the Huns better than they sent—and more of it.

The French officers speak highly of our artillery work.

GOVERNMENT SOON TO MAKE KNOWN ATTITUDE IN IRISH SITUATION.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, May 20.—The State Department was responsible for supplying a considerable portion of the information upon which the Sinn Fein arrests in Ireland were made. This fact was established today, though Secretary Lansing declined to discuss the fact or to make public any of the data.

The secret service bureau conducted by the department, in charge of Leland Harrison and William Nye, gathered the facts, presumably.

There are indications that the American government will make clear its attitude toward the latest developments in the Irish situation.

German Submarine Declared No Longer Big Factor in World War.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONDON, May 20.—The British Admiralty reports that Bruges, the German naval base in Belgium, is still bottled up.

A German submarine was sunk the other day in the Mediterranean by a French trawler. Another was driven in a damaged condition into Cartagena, where it will have to be interned.

The power of the U-boat is waning. It has definitely ceased to be a primary factor in the war.

The Programme.

GERMANS TO DOMINATE ALL RUSSIA, FINLAND.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, May 20.—Finland and Russia are being reduced to complete German control, according to a cable from Stockholm today, quoting a Petrograd dispatch stating that the German Ambassador to Russia has demanded a direct wire between the German Embassy and Berlin and has announced that the German Embassy will establish a department for issuing passports to Finland and the Ukraine.

The message was cabled by Minister Morris at Stockholm and State Department officials interpreted it to mean that Germany intends to keep anybody out of these countries she desires, this policy, it was declared, being an interesting commentary upon Germany's "recognition" of the right of nationalities to determine their own destinies.

Another telegram from Minister Morris, transmitted a Swedish press report saying that:

"The Bolshevik foreign commissariat has sent to the Ukrainian Foreign Minister the following telegram:

"The Russian government accepts the proposal of the German government to open peace negotiations with the Ukraine at Kieff on the express condition that couriers, experts and peace delegates be permitted to pass the frontier freely and that the Russian government be granted the sole right to use a direct telegraph line to Kieff.'"

PRESIDENT'S WORDS THRILL ALL FRANCE.

SISTER REPUBLIC SEES IN THEM OUR DETERMINATION TO CRUSH THE HUN.

(Copyright.)

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PARIS, May 20.—President Wilson's message to the French nation has thrilled all France, particularly at this time, when all eyes are again turned to Picardy, where a new and mightier German blow is expected. In Mr. Wilson's message France sees another proof that America is determined to fight side by side with France till Germany shall own herself vanquished.

Senator Henry Berenger, writing in the Paris Midi, says:

"President Wilson has signified that the United States will fight with all their force, all their resources, all their men, till the hour of reparation, of justice, arrives. Connecting action to words, the Americans are today on the firing line next to the British and French. In that way we have crossed a difficult stage which consisted in holding on at all costs, until America's efforts came to fill the horrible gap made by the Russian defection.

"Now that this stage is safely passed, we can say we lose nothing in the exchange. What did we give the Russians? Nearly everything. What did they give back to us? Very little."

Referring to the tonnage question, after remarking upon the wonderful way America is building ships, Mr. Berenger says:

"In a few months the Allied tonnage will be such that we will sail the Atlantic channel as we today sail the English Channel. What will Germany be able to do when, facing her in arms, she will have the enormous organized democracy called the United States? That is the problem put forward on the eve of a new blow. That is why the Boches are going to try to play their last trumps."

The Republique Francaise says:

"The Entente consists of two great republics, European and American. The union of their armies in battle against barbarous imperialism is the decisive phase of that procession which nothing can stop."

ON WEST FRONT

SUMMARY OF THE SITUATION.

The Allied armies are not permitting the Germans to "get set" for a serious blow at the western front, says the Associated Press. Here and there along the line there have been sudden blows at the German positions, and in all of them ground was captured by the Allies.

The French have done the most of this work. On the front east and northeast of Locre, on the northern side of the Lys salient in Northern France, and just to the west of Kemmel, where some of the more intense fighting of the war has been going on, the French have advanced their line over a two-mile front. Far to the south, near Rheims, the French have advanced into the enemy's positions as far as the third line of trenches.

The Australians on the front before Amiens have been active and have improved their positions.

HEAVY FIRING.

Heavy artillery firing is reported from several points along the front, it being especially severe near Hangard and south of the Avre, near Amiens. The Germans also reported heavy cannonading in the region of Kemmel.

The American sectors have been the scenes of fierce aerial battles. The Americans suffered a severe loss when Raoul Lufbery of Wallingford, Ct., one of their most famous air fighters, went to his death in a thrilling encounter above the city of Toul. The Germans have lost several machines, one of which is believed to be the one that accounted for Lufbery.

In the Italian theater of the war the fighting in the mountains east of the Brenta River continues.

The French troops in Macedonia have taken the offensive near Lake Ochrida and have advanced to a depth of more than twelve miles at some points. The object of this operation appears to be the straightening of an awkward salient in the line.

AUSTRIAN UNREST.

The unrest which has been reported from time to time in Austria, in spite of the efforts of the censor, has again boiled up in Prague, where crowds of Czechs and Slavs have cheered for President Wilson and Premiers Clemenceau and Lloyd George.

A new German army, led by Gen. Von Below, is reported to have been definitely located in front of Arras. This army is said to be made up of units which were not thrown into the great battles on the Somme and along the Lys, and it is believed that it has been brought up to the Arras front to lead the coming attack on the Allied positions at that point.

The German reserves are undergoing intensive training far behind the actual fighting front, and are expected to reach the front in time for the next smash at the Allies. It is pointed out that the German attack March 21 was timed so that the Germans were able to take advantage of the bright moonlight for several nights. The moon now is just past the phase which signaled the advance from St. Quentin and Cambrai, and the long-expected attack may be launched at any time.

Sharp Success.

HUNDREDS PRISONERS

Important Advance Reported by Haig.

Artillery Lagging Except at Amiens; Air Fights Like Lull Before Storm.

LONDON, May 20.—In sharp operations around Locre, French troops made an important advance on a front of more than two miles and captured over four hundred prisoners, according to Field Marshal Haig's report from British headquarters, tonight.

WITH THE BRITISH ARMY IN FRANCE, May 20.—The French troops, who are fighting alongside the British, have carried another of their whirlwind attacks to a successful conclusion in the Flanders battlefield and have thereby advanced their line along a four thousand yard front in the Locre sector. Several hundred German prisoners have thus far been brought in. The prisoners have been sent on the happy road to the French rear.

No attempt was made to push forward to a great depth and all objectives were gained.

As a consequence there has been a decided improvement in the Allied positions.

MUCH AERIAL ACTIVITY.

ALLIED MORALE GROWS AS LUDENDORFF WAITS.

Conditions Faultless and Expect Teutons to Strike with Moon Right.

BY ARTHUR S. DRAPER.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONDON, May 20.—While waiting for the German offensive to flare up again on the western front, the Allies have been maintaining their morale by a series of nibbling operations. The Germans have made no progress in the Lys Valley salient since they took Mont Kemmel on April 26 last and pushed beyond it to Locre and La Clytte. In the Somme salient their advance was pinned down more than a month ago.

In the last few weeks the Allies have promptly regained by counter-attacks all the territory they have had to yield temporarily, while they also have actually bettered their positions at many points. The British have retaken important high ground at Villers-Bretonneux. The French have pushed forward near Hangard, at Hailles and Castel, in the Avre River sector, and at Grivesnes, farther down toward Montdidier. The Australians have made successful attacks below Albert, between the Ancre and the Somme, and the Canadians have done the same thing in the neighborhood of Arras.

On the north side of the Lys Valley salient, the French, after retaking Locre, have been pushing steadily down toward Mont Kemmel and Dranoutre. Yesterday they made a brilliant advance in this sector on a front of more than two miles, capturing over 400 prisoners. This advance must have covered most of the area between La Clytte and the Cross of Poperinghe—an elevation which lies to the southeast of Mont Vidaigne and Mont Noir.

A blow in this direction would carry the French close to the village of Dranoutre, which lies to the southwest of Mont Kemmel and outflanks it. The Germans in their part of the battlefield seem still stunned by their crushing defeat on April 29, last. The few attacks which they have made since have been half-hearted and easily smothered by Allied counter-attacks.

AND STILL THEY WAIT.

Though conditions seem perfect, Ludendorff still holds his hand. Except for lively gun duels and great aerial activity, there is little to report from the western front, where gigantic forces are all prepared for a gigantic struggle.

Even the artillery fire seems fitful and spasmodic, now reaching extreme violence, now sinking down until only an occasional gun is heard in some sectors.

For three days the sun has shone with almost dazzling brilliance. The roads have dried out to such an extent that every transport raises a cloud of dust, and yet the enemy holds back. The strain of waiting must be very great on either side, for both the Germans and the Allies have been ready for at least a week.

VARIOUS REASONS.

Various reasons have been given to explain the delay, but there is only one which seems to carry much weight, and that is that Ludendorff is waiting for the Austrians to complete their preparations for an attack against Italy. There has been some activity on the Asiago Plateau, but there is nothing to indicate that either side is ready to strike a blow there.

Each day Ludendorff is receiving fresh reserves of troops coming from the east. In addition the training depots are turning out new recruits and numbers of men who have been previously wounded are ready to take their places in the line once more.

The short moonlit nights as bright almost as day, permit fighting for almost twenty-four hours on end, and it is considered likely that Ludendorff will take advantage of them.

On the rest of the west front there was no fighting of consequence today.

IN ALBANIA.

In Albania French [illegible] forces on May 18, 19 and [illegible] nated a bothersome salient in enemy's lines. From the [illegible] vance was made of about two and a half miles. The fighting was in rough mountainous country, where roads are practically non-existent. The Allied line in this quarter—southwest of Kastrit—has now been carried considerably farther north. The Austro-Hungarian forces on their front have

Locking Wings.

TALLY OF PLANES DOWN GREATLY IN OUR FAVOR.

Enemy Birdmen Start to Fly in Flocks at Great Height—British and the French Destroy Many Foes.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, May 19.—Control of the air no longer belongs to the Germans along the Toul sector. Aerial activity there seems to be increasing daily, but the Germans are not permitted to prowl about freely.

Fighting American airmen have locked wings with the enemy, and today the tally of machines brought down is overwhelmingly in their favor. In fact, they have had such good fortune that they are wondering whether it can keep up without change. They are not passing by a single chance to get at the enemy.

The German airmen have started to fly in flocks at great height. Early this morning, for instance, five of them came over together at 6000 meters, 1940 above the ordinary fire of the Archies. The alarm was given promptly, but the Germans were keeping a sharp lookout, and as they saw five American pursuit planes climbing to meet them they turned and started home rapidly.

Lieut. Douglas Campbell today gained his second aerial victory. On the Toul sector he shot down in flames an enemy biplane containing two officers.

Returning from a trip over Germany at a height of 4500 meters the lieutenant met a German photographic biplane going home. He maneuvered until he got under the tail of the German machine and then opened fire.

The German machine burst into flames and fell inside the American lines, southeast of Pilrey.

LUFBERY AVENGED.

A French aviator this afternoon shot down an enemy plane back of the Luneville sector. Two men from the plane were captured by the Americans. The Germans came from somewhere in the rear. It is reported, although not confirmed, that this is the machine which brought down Maj. Lufbery.

There has been extraordinary aerial activity all day in this sector.

Two hostile airplanes have been brought down by American aviators, says an official announcement issued at American headquarters this evening.

The statement, timed at 9 p.m., follows:

"Aside from activity of the air forces on both sides, the day was quiet at all points occupied by our troops. Our aviators brought down two hostile machines."

MUCH AERIAL ACTION.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PARIS, May 19.—American gunners have brought down a German airman, it was announced officially tonight.

Pronounced aerial activity is reported. On May 17 and 18 the French destroyed twelve airplanes and forced down twenty-three others in a damaged condition. Four captive balloons were destroyed. In addition three German planes were downed by artillery fire, one of them by Americans.

French airplanes dropped 44,000 kilograms (more than forty-eight tons) of explosives on barracks and railway stations in the enemy zone. Explosions and fires resulting caused great damage.

Among the citations printed today is that of the late Edmond C. C. Genet, a corporal in the Lafayette escadrille, who was killed near Jlan in April, 1917. The citation says:

"He was an American citizen and enlisted for the duration of the war, and was a courageous and devoted pilot. He died gloriously on April 16, 1917. In expressing his last wishes he concluded: 'Vive la France, toujours.'"

CAPT. BIDDLE FOUND.

PARIS, May 18.—Capt. Charles J. Biddle of Andalusia, Pa., chief of a patrol of the Lafayette squadron, who recently was reported lost after a fight with the Germans, was found today by French scouts in No Man's Land with a bullet through his leg. His machine was wrecked. He was brought to the rear for treatment in a hospital.

BRITISH BAG MANY.

LONDON, May 20.—In aerial fighting Saturday twenty-one German airplanes were destroyed and two disabled by British aviators. The statement on aerial operations also reports continuation of the bombing of enemy railway stations, airdromes, munition dumps and billets, as well as on the submarine base at Zeebrugge.

TEN STEEL VESSELS FINISHED, DELIVERED.

FOURTEEN OTHERS LAUNCHED IN SAME WEEK, FOUR IN SINGLE DAY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 20.—Ten steel ships of 58,850 aggregate tonnage were completed and delivered to the Emergency Fleet Corporation during the past week and fourteen others, some wood and some steel, of 43,000 tons, were launched.

On Saturday four wooden ships left the ways, the third time during the present month, when four vessels of this type were launched in a single day. The total number of wooden ships launched in May to date is twenty-two.

The completed ships included eight requisitioned and two built on contract. Four of them were 8800 tons or larger. They were delivered at San Francisco; Chester, Pa.; Seattle (two;) Ecorse, Mich.; Camden, N. J.; Manitowoc, Wis.; Ashtabula, O.; Long Beach, Cal., and Cleveland, O.

Two of the vessels launched were steel and twelve were wood. Nine of them were launched on the Pacific Coast, three on the lakes and one each on the Atlantic and gulf.

Hulls are being put into the water now faster than machinery can be obtained to equip them. It was learned today that the Shipping Board has acceded to the Navy Department's refusal to surrender turbines ordered for destroyers for use in transports. The transports can be commissioned, but their speed will be reduced by lack of the turbines.

Lumber and labor conditions in the South have improved so much since January 1 that southern shipyards soon will be able to begin working night shifts, according to a report made today by the Emergency Fleet Corporation by John H. Kirby, who has been making a survey of conditions in the South.

been greatly depleted. Possession of Albania has no value except for the purpose of linking up the Macedonian fronts with the Adriatic littoral.

The situation in the Caucasus is growing more threatening. Bolsheviki and Mussulmen forces are fighting for control in Baku, which has been set on fire. The independent Caucasus government has broken off negotiations with the Turks, and Turkey evidently will have to fight for anything she gets in Caucasia beyond the Black Sea coast. Everything else failing, the Turkish government will fall back on another massacre of the Armenians, handed over to its mercies by the infamous treaty of Brest-Litovsk.

CUT OFF PENSIONS TO VETERANS IN GERMANY.

CIVIL OR OTHER WAR SURVIVORS IN ENEMY COUNTRIES LOSE ALLOWANCES.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 20.—United States pensioners living in Germany and Austria, who have been drawing money from the American government for services in the Civil War or for other reasons, have had their allowances cut off. Payment of pensions will not be resumed until peace is declared. Congress has been told, although allowances are sent regularly to those residing in countries allied against Germany and Austria or in the neutral lands.

Veterans of the Civil and Spanish wars entitled to pensions are living in all parts of the world, and a bill is pending in Congress to exclude pension privileges to all except those living in the United States or its possessions.

The total number of pensioners residing in foreign countries, including Germany and Austria, is 4085. In the last fiscal year they received $939,767.

BIG MEASURE OF ADVERTISING AGAIN PRINTED IN "THE TIMES"

On May 19, 1918, the aggregate volume of advertising printed in Los Angeles newspapers totaled 18,520 inches.

The Times again was favored with most of the advertising, clearly demonstrating the continued preference of advertising patrons for Southern California's leading newspaper.

The following enlightening tabulation indicates the lead of The Times over the other two local newspapers, to wit:

THE TIMES	8,967 inches
Second morning newspaper	5,952 "
Third morning newspaper	3,601 "

CLASSIFIED OR "WANT" ADVERTISING.

Nowhere else in the world does the public place so much confidence in classified or "want" advertising as it does in that printed in The Times. For years The Times has printed more classified advertising than any other two Pacific Coast newspapers combined. Sunday last The Times printed not only as much as the two other local newspapers put together, but it exceeded their combined total by 840 inches. Tabulated, the figures are as follows:

THE TIMES printed	3,121 inches
Second morning newspaper	1,685 "
Third morning newspaper	596 "

The foregoing figures prove beyond a doubt that discriminating advertisers in every line of business select The Times as the most popular medium for reaching the intelligent and buying readers in Southern California.

WAR OFFICE STATEMENTS.

LONDON, May 20.—The German artillery developed increased activity last night along the front between Albert and Bucquoy, the War Office announces.

The statement follows:

"We captured a few prisoners yesterday as a result of a successful raid carried out in the Albert sector. A raid attempted by the enemy north of Hinges was repulsed with heavy loss to the hostile raiding party.

"The hostile artillery activity increased considerably last night on the Albert-Bucquoy front."

The text of the statement from Field Marshal Haig tonight reads:

"During the night French troops carried out successful operations east and northeast of Locre. All their objectives were gained on a front of some 4000 yards, and over 400 prisoners were captured.

"Local fighting occurred early this morning north of Albert, as a result of which a few of our men are missing. A party of our troops rushed a German post east of Hebuterne and captured a few prisoners and two machine guns.

"The hostile artillery has shown considerable activity today with gas shells in the section north of Bethune."

FRENCH.

PARIS, Sunday, May 19.—French and Italian troops have made an advance of twenty kilometers (twelve and one-half miles) on the western end of the Macedonian front, the War Office announced tonight.

PARIS, May 20.—Active artillery fighting near Hangard, on the front near Amiens, is reported in today's official statement. Northwest of Rheims a French detachment penetrated to the German third line, taking prisoners.

PARIS, May 19.—The official statement from the War Office today reads:

"The artillery on both sides was active north of the Avre. French patrols were active in the sector of Hangard and captured prisoners.

"Enemy surprise attacks against our positions on the lower Allette, in the Argonne and in the Woevre, were broken up by our fire. We brought back prisoners in raids east of Rheims. There is nothing to report on the remainder of the front."

The text of the official statement tonight reads:

"There were violent artillery actions in the region of Hangard and south of the Avre. French patrols operating west of Castel captured prisoners.

"Northwest of Rheims, near Bermericourt, French detachments penetrated as far as the third German trenches, carrying out destructive operations on the enemy's defense works. They captured prisoners, one of whom was an officer, and valuable war material.

"The Germans attempted incursions against the French line in the Vaucierc-Chevalier wood region without result. The night was calm on the rest of the front."

AMERICAN.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 20.—Gen. Pershing's communique today brought its best story, a tale of the valor and sacrifice of American blood on the battlefields of France. It also gave eloquent testimony to the spirit of democracy, which knows no race nor color.

It told of the gallant death of Maj. Raoul Lufbery, premier American ace of the flying corps, gentleman, globe trotter and one of the first flyers of the celebrated Lafayette escadrille. It told also of the heroic fight of two American negro soldiers, both wounded, who withstood a raiding party of twenty Germans and saved comrades from surprise and capture.

The communique follows:

"Headquarters, American Expeditionary Forces, May 19, 1918.

"Section A: Aside from the activity of the air forces on both sides, the day was quiet at all points occupied by our troops. Our aviators brought down two machines.

"Section B: Reports on hand show a notable instance of bravery and devotion shown by two soldiers of an American colored regiment operating in a French sector. Before daylight on May 15 Private Henry Johnston and Private Roberts, while on sentry duty at some distance from one another, were attacked by a German raiding party estimated at twenty men, who advanced in two groups, attacking at once from flank and rear.

"Both men fought bravely in hand-to-hand encounters, one resorting to the use of a bolo knife after his rifle jammed and further fighting with bayonet and butt became impossible. There is evidence that at least one and probably a second German was severely cut. A third is known to have been shot.

"Attention is drawn to the fact that the two colored sentries were first attacked and continued fighting after receiving wounds and despite the use of grenades, by a superior force. They should be given great credit for preventing, by their bravery, the capture of any of our men. Three of our men were wounded, two by grenades. All are recovering and the wounds in two cases are slight.

"Maj. Lufbery was killed in flight during which he had been in combat. He was seen to fall from his machine, which itself fell a short distance from him. He was possibly wounded or dead before he fell. Earlier reports stated that he was at the time engaged in a long running fight and was flying upside down at 2000 feet.

"Last night one of our aviators engaged two German planes and brought down one in the vicinity of Apremont.

"This morning Lieut. Douglas Campbell, flying at 4500 meters, brought down a hostile biplane in the vicinity of Flirey. The hostile plane fell within our lines."

"On May 13 a descendant of one of the French officers who served with the American revolutionary forces presented in the name of the descendants of all such officers a stand of national and regimental colors to two regiments of a newly-arrived American division. These flags bore the inscription 'From the sons of the French champion of American liberty to the American champions for France and humanity.'"

ROME, May 20.—The official communication from general headquarters today says:

"Enemy patrols have been driven back between the Adige and Astico. At Capo Sile a storming party made a successful raid, capturing a portion of the enemy's trenches and establishing itself there.

"A strong enemy counter attack was repulsed this morning. Thirty-one prisoners, about 100 rifles, four machine guns and other war material remained in our hands.

"Our airmen dropped eighty tons of bombs in the Val Sugana. Eight enemy airplanes were brought down.

"In co-operation with French troops in Albania, we have reached the Cerevoda-Ostrovya front, despite strong enemy resistance."

GERMAN.

BERLIN (via London) May 20.—"In the evening and toward midnight the firing in the Kemmel region increased considerably in intensity," says the official communication from general headquarters today.

"Violent artillery duels developed early this morning. On the other battle fronts also fighting activity revived frequently.

"On the southern bank of the Ancre the British attacked in the early morning with strong forces. They made their way into Ville-Sur-Ancre. The enemy's attempts to advance farther along the Ancre Valley were unsuccessful. Several assaults launched against Morlan court broke down before the village with sanguinary losses.

"At many points along the front British and French reconnoitering thrusts were repulsed. We captured prisoners in foretield engagements and successful raids north of St Mihiel.

"London and Dover and other places on the English coast were successfully attacked last night with bombs."

Recklessness.

SPEEDS AUTO INTO HOME GUARDS; THREE INJURED.

W. E. Wright, Said to be Intoxicated, at Wheel—Placed in Jail.

FULLERTON, May 20.—W. E. Wright of West Commonwealth avenue is in jail tonight charged with driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor, and three officers of the Santa Ana Home Guard are in the hospital as a result of his carelessness.

The Fullerton, Santa Ana and Orange Home Guard companies were in review on West Commonwealth avenue in front of the City Park, at 8:45, and city officers were stationed at the intersection of Highland avenue to divert traffic by way of Amerige avenue, when Wright, accompanied by his wife and small child, in returning from a fishing trip to the beach, speeded west on West Commonwealth avenue, it is charged, at a gait of thirty-five miles an hour.

The city officers at Highland avenue signaled him to halt, but he paid no attention to them, they declare, and they were forced to jump aside to avoid being run down. Wright ran into the Santa Ana company, knocking down Capt. Koepsel, deputy District Attorney of the county, who had a leg injured and was badly bruised otherwise. First Lieutenant Elliott, who had his collar bone broken and was badly injured about the body, and Second Lieutenant Hayden, who was cut about the head.

City Marshal Myers had just arrived at the review and had parked his motorcycle when the accident occurred. He made his way to Wright's machine and was forced to plead with the incensed soldiers to prevent Wright from being mobbed. He succeeded in getting his prisoner away and to the jail.

The Fullerton band struck up a lively tune, which calmed the large gathering, and the review by the County Council of Defense was soon brought to a close. The three victims were taken to the Fullerton general hospital, where they were cared for. At 10 o'clock Sheriff Jackson, who was here, a member of the County Council of Defense, took the prisoner to the County Jail.

LOS ANGELES, SAN DIEGO IN RACE FOR SHIPYARD.

Government May Build Concrete Vessels at Our Harbor.

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, May 20.—Los Angeles may get a government concrete shipyard employing at the start 1500 men and occupying a site of sixty acres with 2000 feet of water frontage. The Pacific Coast is certain of two and possibly three concrete shipyards owned and operated by the government. The plant of the San Francisco Shipbuilding Company at San Francisco, builders of the pioneer concrete ship, Faith, has been taken over by the government and 870 500-ton concrete ships will be built at this yard.

San Diego and Los Angeles are running neck and neck for the other yard, with conditions at San Diego a little more to the liking of the Shipping Board people here. E. E. Parker, who, with J. W. Hubbard, surveyed the Pacific Coast for the location of the yards for the government, is back in Washington, and Mr. Hubbard is on the way here from San Diego with Congressman Kettner, who went West especially to land the concrete shipyard of the government for San Diego. While San Diego has the edge on Los Angeles the fact that San Diego has but one railroad may land the plant in Los Angeles. Housing conditions are better in San Diego, Mr. Parker reports, than in the harbor sections of the beach cities of Los Angeles, and there are no shipyards in San Diego to be interfered with by the new yard in the matter of labor.

Building construction has been reduced to about the same proportions in both cities, and the report of Mr. Parker and his associate is expected to show that the new yard will not interfere with the labor supply of the present steel and wood shipbuilding plants. In fact, so far as the report of Messrs. Hubbard and Parker are concerned conditions in both cities are good for the location of a concrete shipyard for the government and the railroad advantages of Los Angeles is about offset by the superior housing conditions close to the proposed site at San Diego.

So closely tied are the two cities that San Diego and Los Angeles may each get a plant of the same size, though, if this is done, the expansion of the business will be more rapid at Los Angeles than at the San Diego plant.

A decision will be reached in the next two or three days and the city of Los Angeles should exert every influence to see that Los Angeles gets the opinion of many of the shipping experts. Concrete cargo boats are going to be built in great numbers and Southern California is the ideal place for their construction. The Golden State now has a number of engineers in the concrete division of the Emergency Fleet Corporation. In addition to Mr. Bush, who has just arrived, there are Capt. J. F. Vawter, Mr. Noyes and a number of others, all of Los Angeles, and a number of others from San Francisco, and the northern part of the State.

Fred Engstrum of Los Angeles is also here trying to get the Shipping Board to interest itself in a plan he has to build small concrete ships at Balboa. He hopes to build 2500-ton boats there. Lew Walker, president of the First National Bank of Newport, Cal., is here also to boost for Newport harbor and will probably help Mr. Engstrum's plan along.

CAUCASIA A SHAMBLES.

Women Butchered by Thousands.

Berlin is Notified by Russia Brest-Litovsk Treaty is Being Violated.

Teutons Held Responsible for Betrayal of Rights of Victim Population.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, May 20.—The Russian Commissioner for Foreign Affairs, it was made known today, sent the following wireless message April 12 to the German Foreign Office:

"In the Turkish advance in the Caucasus, the peaceful population, including women and children, is being cut down ruthlessly by thousands. The treaty we were forced to sign at Brest-Litovsk provided that the populations at Ardahan, Kars and Batum should have full freedom and the right to control their destiny in their own way. The events in these regions show that the policy of extermination, which has been followed for the past ten years, is still being pursued.

"Responsibility for atrocities among the Armenian people in the regions at present occupied by Turkey devolves upon the German government, whose direct assistance makes it possible for Turkey to exercise its will in these regions.

"The People's Commissioner for Foreign Affairs vigorously protests against the betrayal of the right of the populations of Ardahan, Kars and Batum to dispose of themselves. The Commissioner insists upon the necessity of speedy and decisive intervention on the part of Germany in the Caucasus to prevent the continuation of massacre and extermination of the peaceful population, which is taking place at Ardahan."

CANYON CONQUEROR'S MEMORY IS HONORED.

SECRETARY LANE DEDICATES MONUMENT TO MAJ. POWELL NEAR EL TOVAR.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

GRAND CANYON (Ariz.) May 20.—Secretary of the Interior Franklin K. Lane today dedicated, at a point about a mile west of El Tovar Hotel on Maricopa point, a monument to the memory of Maj. John Wesley Powell, first director of the Geological Survey, and the explorer who in 1869 conducted the first expedition through this world-famous gorge.

A number of officials and other Arizona notables were present. Among them were: Gov. George W. P. Hunt and staff, Bishop Julius W. Atwood of the Episcopal Church of Arizona; Harry R. Trittle, son of former Gov. F. A. Trittle. Mr. Trittle acted as master of ceremonies.

Mrs. Julia Powell, sister of Maj. Powell, and Mrs. L. W. Field, Frederick S. Dellenbaugh, S. V. Jones, and G. K. Hillers, who had been invited to attend, were unable to be present, as was Maude Powell, famous violinist, a niece of the explorer.

Mrs. Field served breakfast to the exploring party at Green River City, Colo., the morning it left on its perilous undertaking. Dellenbaugh, Jones and Hillers are the only surviving members of the expedition.

The location chosen for the monument is a fitting place to commemorate the achievement of a man who passed the greater part of his life in explorations of the great chasm. The monument is on the brink of the canyon, on a promontory 7000 feet above sea level. The promontory projects into the fifteen-mile-wide gorge of the Colorado River and is 5000 feet above its waters.

The monument is a massive pile of native undressed rock. On it is a bronze tablet with a portrait in relief of Maj. Powell. The names of his party also are there, and this simple inscription:

"Erected by the Congress of the United States to Maj. John Wesley Powell, first explorer of the Colorado River, who descended the river with his party in row boats, traversing the gorge beneath this point, August the 17th, 1869, and again September the 1st, 1872."

An interesting feature of the impressive ceremonies was the recital of a poem on patriotism by William Farnum, motion-picture actor.

Secretary Lane is making an inspection trip throughout the West.

HUNGER, MISERY, SLAVERY UKRAINE'S "PEACE" FATE.

Outraged Populace Burns Villages and Fields to Thwart Germans.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, May 20.—The ruthless methods of the Germans in attempting to gather foodstuffs in the Ukraine are meeting with bitter opposition from the exasperated populace, according to a Russian government wireless message received here. District assemblies throughout the Ukraine decided to burn all bread and other provisions. The land owners were declared to be outcasts.

Twenty thousand peasants attempted to hold an assembly of their own in Kiev, but they were dispersed by the Germans.

Gen. Skoropauski, the self-appointed hetman, has been declared an impostor by many Ukrainian organizations and the people have been ordered to disregard his decrees. Except for his bodyguard of 100 men, the hetman is said to have no troops at his disposal.

Everywhere the Germans are appointing their own officials, while the country is groaning from hunger, misery and slavery. The Russian statement says that thousands are attempting to flee to Great Russia. The members of the Rada are regarded as traitors.

Almost the entire population is armed. Attempts by the Germans to disarm the people are meeting with deadly resistance. Towns and villages are reported to have been burned.

The Germans, the statement adds, export to Germany all the provisions they can lay hands on, but there are no imports into the Ukraine. All the towns, villages and railway stations and cars are in darkness as there is no petroleum or candles.

RUSS-UKRAINE PARLEY PEACE

WASHINGTON, May 20.—Press reports from Stockholm forwarded today to the State Department say the foreign commissariat in Petrograd has notified the Foreign Minister of Ukraina that the Russian government accepts Germany's proposition to open peace negotiations with the Ukrainian government at Kiev. The condition is made that couriers, experts and peace delegates will be allowed freely to pass, and that Russia shall have the sole right to forward telegrams between the two countries.

Another report from Stockholm says that the German Ambassador to Russia has demanded a direct wire to Berlin, and that the German government will establish a department for the issuance and vise of passports to Finland and Ukraine.

WASHINGTON, May 20.—Enthusiastic reports of the progress of the American Red Cross for a second war mercy fund of $100,000,000 came to headquarters here in a steady stream throughout the opening day of the campaign.

Messages telling of oversubscriptions in towns and counties from New England to Hawaii began arriving early in the day, while Governors of nearly all States telegraphed promises of hearty co-operation in the auctioning off for the benefit of the Red Cross of wool clipped from the President's White House sheep.

Conflicting claims to the honor of first subscribing their allotments already have been received. Gov. Pinkham cabled from Honolulu that Hawaii had oversubscribed its quota of $250,000. Peabody, Mass.; Kossuth county, Iowa; Pontotoc county, Oklahoma, and Yolo county, California, were others that reported over the top.

Much rivalry in the sale of the White House wool was manifested in the telegrams from the Governors. Gov. Boyle of Nevada wired:

"State that realized $275,000 by sale of Gridley sack of flour for the Sanitary Commission in the Civil War has not forgotten how to bid for Liberty."

"Every dollar contributed will help the boys who are going over there to shear the Kaiser's goat," telegraphed Gov. Catts of Florida.

CANTALOUPES BRING $10,200.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 20.—Reports from all parts of the Pacific division of the Red Cross campaign organization told similar stories of an effective start on the quick accomplishment of the second war fund of the national war relief body.

Few neighborhoods tonight were without their campaign meetings. Gov. Stephens addressed meetings at Petaluma and Healdsburg.

At the luncheon of the Loyal Campaign Committee today, it was announced that $281,345 had been subscribed—more than one-fourth of the city's quota.

The first box of cantaloupes to appear here this season was produced at the luncheon and auctioned off for $10,200, whereupon John B. Miller, chairman of the Pacific division, subscribed a like amount.

SALT LAKE GOES $150,000.

SALT LAKE CITY, May 20.—Business here will be forgotten for a time in order to get the Red Cross campaign well under way, and go "over the top" before the end of the week's drive for funds. Subscriptions began to pour into Red Cross headquarters early, and it was predicted that the first day's result would show nearly $150,000 of Salt Lake City's $315,000 quota subscribed. The State is called upon for $500,000.

DENVER ENTHUSIASTIC.

DENVER, May 20.—Reports tabulated tonight at the end of the first day's drive in the Red Cross campaign showed that $144,705 had been subscribed toward the city's quota of $500,000. Workers were enthusiastic and predicted that the quota would be far oversubscribed before the campaign ended.

U-39 BELIEVED HIT BY FRENCH AIRMAN.

PARIS, May 20.—The German submarine U-39, according to a Havas dispatch from Caragena, probably was damaged in an encounter with a French hydro-airplane off Gibraltar. The U-boat was on patrol duty off the Moroccan coast when it was sighted by the airman, who opened fire and dropped bombs.

Several hits were made and the submarine was forced to submerge. It regained the surface with difficulty and was joined by a second U-boat, which accompanied it to Cartagena.

No Increase in Assessments.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, May 20.—The Supreme Council of the Royal Arcanum, in session here today, announced that there will be no increase in the assessments now being levied, and that the society is in excellent financial status. Plans for a war on tuberculosis and establishment of sanitoria were discussed.

ASSAIL AMERICANS.

DUBLIN, May 20.—A Sinn Fein delegate who called on the American mission, representing the American labor delegation now in England, endeavored to create a scene at the hotel lobby by declaring loudly that Americans were not treating the Sinn Fein fairly.

The members of the American mission replied that they would be glad to listen to all sides, and that they proposed to view the Irish question without prejudice, but that they could not take sides in internal British questions.

"CAN'T KILL SINN FEIN."

DUBLIN, May 19.—A Sinn Fein demonstration today at Coote Hill, East Cavan, was attended by 6000 persons. Among the speakers were two priests. The Sinn Feiners bore a banner inscribed:

"They may kill our leaders, but they cannot kill the Sinn Fein."

The Sinn Feiners throughout Ireland, who had been waiting for two days for a cue as to what action to take, tonight received a proclamation from a party committee appointing new men to take the places of those arrested.

The effect of this proclamation probably will be to influence the Sinn Fein against any spasmodic outbreak. The policy seems to be to sit tight and await the orders of the newly-appointed heads of the organization.

ESPIONAGE ACT NURSES' FRIEND.

Slanderers of Red Cross Workers in Peril.

Federal Court Warns Gossipmongers of Law.

Vassar Case Occasions Comment by Judge Hand.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

NEW YORK, May 15.—Unthinking Americans who have been adding zest to war talks by repeating scandalous stories affecting the army and navy and the Red Cross have been given a warning by Judge Augustus N. Hand in the Federal District Court that the Espionage Act, which carries a maximum penalty of twenty years' imprisonment and $10,000 fine, may be invoked against them.

Sensational stories of the most unbelievable kind have been spread orally from Maine to California since the United States went to war. The number of these stories and their general similarity convinced Federal officials months ago that they were of German make. Their circulation has been largely the work of Americans in irresponsible moments of gossip.

Judge Hand spoke after a Federal grand jury had handed up a presentment in which Dr. Emma B. Culbertson, senior surgeon of the New England Hospital for Women and Children at Boston, was arraigned in severe terms for a story reflecting on the morals of Red Cross nurses in France.

Dr. Culbertson was unfortunate in being the single individual on whom the grand jury was able to fix responsibility for the utterance of slanderous statements.

MADE STATEMENT AT VASSAR.

Speaking at Vassar College, Poughkeepsie, on January 17 last, to the War Service Department, which is composed of members of the college faculty and directs activities that relate to the war, Dr. Culbertson said:

"It is a matter of common knowledge that 200 beds were reserved in the Sloane Maternity Hospital, New York City, for Red Cross nurses who were returning from France and expecting immediate confinement."

In refuting and denouncing this charge in its presentment, the grand jury said:

"This statement was called to the attention of this grand jury on the ground that if the statements were true the failure of the military authorities properly to safeguard the nurses in the service of the United States Army abroad would constitute gross neglect, and for the further reason that if the statement were false and wilfully made it would constitute a violation of the Espionage Act.

"Investigation showed that said Emma B. Culbertson had absolutely no knowledge or information upon which to base said statement, and that said statement was wholly and entirely without foundation, and does further present that no Red Cross nurse has returned to this country from foreign service in such condition."

Dr. Culbertson is a member of the Vassar Alumnae Society. She attended the winter meeting of the society in this city before going to Poughkeepsie, where she made the statements that led to her being summoned before the Federal grand jury by Assistant United States Attorney R. W. Horne, who had charge of the investigation. One of the reasons why the grand jury arraigned her so severely was because of the feeling of the members that it would have been easy for her to investigate the story at Sloane Hospital while she was in this city.

TIME FOR LAW TO ACT.

In speaking to the jurors, Judge Hand said:

"The American people have been very tolerant in these matters, and I think it is greatly to their credit that they have, but the time has certainly come when people who make statements which they have picked up in the street, not knowing whether they are true or not, either for notoriety or for some reason which we cannot fathom—the time has certainly come when those people are going to be held responsible by juries in our courts of law.

"The juries have been tolerant in the past because they did not want to believe evil of any one, but undoubtedly statements of this kind emanate from some source which is engaged in a deliberate and unfriendly propaganda. It is certainly proper for the court to say here that the people in this community and every other community ought to take warning and to remember that when men in this country are sacrificing their lives, when women are going to the front to act as nurses, when mothers are parting with their sons and wives with their husbands, the least people can do who attempt to speak about matters relating to this war is to pay some kind of attention to the facts and to know what they are talking about, and not make statements and criticisms and spread wild rumors that are utterly unfounded in a perfectly irresponsible way. If they do it in the future they may expect indictments and they may expect trials and they may be pretty certain of conviction."

The presentment dealt also with a story about two nurses who returned to this country with their arms amputated and their tongues cut off, to enter a maternity hospital. The New York World exposed this story as the result of an investigation that proved it to be untrue. The presentment agreed with the newspaper's conclusion.

TERMS-OF-PEACE MAN HELD IN $5000 BONDS.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 20.—William Short, an official of the San Francisco branch of the Peoples' Council of America for Democracy and Terms of Peace, was held to answer in bonds of $5000 here today by United States Commissioner Thomas E. Hayden.

Baruch Wants Californians to Await Conference.

War Industries Head Eager to See Reserve Open.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, May 20.—California oil men have been asked to remain in Washington till after Wednesday's war council at the White House, when Bernard Baruch will present the situation to the President. The head of the War Industries Board is very anxious that immediate production of oil should begin, and wants to try to get the Navy Department to consent to the opening of the naval reserve No. 2 without haggling over future possibilities of other oil discoveries and contingent reimbursement to the navy.

In the meantime the oil-leasing bill will be jammed through the House this week. It is now, by unanimous consent, the unfinished business and will follow the agricultural bill probably tomorrow.

Some of the oil men are clamoring for greater relief in the conference between the Senate and the House. They want to limit the size of the claim lease and the dismissal of all suits affecting the claims in naval reserve No. 2, and the distribution of the impounded money arising from this litigation, now amounting to about $12,000,000.

A fight is expected in the conference, but it is believed the President will interfere with any further grants by the Senate. He has given notice that he will veto any measure that goes much further than the present House measure, which has been agreed to in a general way by the oil men and specifically by the President, Atty.-Gen. Gregory, Secretary Lane and Secretary Daniels of the Navy.

CAPTURE HUNS BY HUNDREDS.

Amiens is like the lull before the storm. Both sides are sending out their birdmen, the eyes of the army, to get information as to what the enemy is doing.

This week's total bag of enemy aircraft probably will come very near the record.

Information gathered from various reliable sources proves the statement made several months ago that German planes are poorly constructed. A captured pilot said that the material now being used in Hun airplanes was so bad that very often the tubing or wiring would snap while the plane was in midair, bringing it to the ground a heap of ruins.

It also is asserted that the badly constructed planes are responsible for the heavy casualties at the training stations. It is estimated that only 30 per cent. of the pupils ever reach the fighting front.

One prisoner taken said that the scarcity of officers in the aviation section made it necessary to take up privates as observers.

ARRAS FIGHTING: MEANING.

The increase in artillery fighting before Arras shows that apparently it is the Hun's aim to reduce this salient, which projects from the British lines between the German salients of the Somme and the Lys and stands in the way of further advances toward the coast or the cutting of the Anglo-French communications. This reduction of Arras would carry the Huns a good distance toward Doulens and would almost inevitably throw Amiens into the hands of the enemy.

The greatest stir along the entire battle line is in what is known as the Albert sector, between Amiens and Arras.

Here there has been increased artillery duelling, extending as far northward as the sector of Bucquoy, eleven miles northeast of Albert and about midway between Albert and Arras. There also was raiding activity in this sector.

In Flanders there has been little doing. The Germans attempted several raids in the vicinity of Hinges, but they all failed miserably.

There also was considerable activity in the air.

On the Picardy front there has been increased aerial fighting and a few enemy raiding attempts.

WAR DEPARTMENT WILL HANDLE TROOP'S MAIL.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 20.—Delivery of mail to and its collection from the American Expeditionary Forces has been taken over by the War Department.

Postmaster-General Burleson, in making this announcement tonight, said the Postoffice Department had insisted on the army conducting its own mail service in France, because of the refusal of the military authorities, charged with the conduct of operations there, to disclose to the postal authorities the location and movements of troops.

Mail for the troops overseas will be delivered by the Postoffice Department to army authorities at the ports of embarkation in the United States and that from the soldiers abroad will be received by the Postoffice Department at a port in France for its dispatch to America.

AMERICAN ACE KILLED BY FOE.

Maj. Lufbery is Shot Down by German Machine.

Had Eighteen Enemy Planes to His Credit.

Buried with Full Military Honors in France.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PARIS, May 20.—Maj. Raoul Lufbery, the first American ace to be killed as the result of an aerial fight, was buried today with full military honors by French and American detachments.

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, May 19.—Maj. Raoul Lufbery, who had been regarded as the best aviator in the American air service, was shot down and killed this morning by a big German triplane, which he was attacking. Lufbery jumped from his machine when 800 feet above the ground. He had eighteen victories to his credit. Lufbery's home was in Washington, Ct.

The German machine which brought Lufbery down, which was armed with two machine guns with an operator for each piece, apparently escaped.

Lufbery's only wound, aside from those received when he crashed to earth, was a bullet hole through the thumb. Apparently the same bullet punctured one of the gasoline tanks of his machine.

The German machine was under heavy anti-aircraft fire several times both before and after the air fight, and one explosion of a shell upset the enemy plane, but it managed to straighten out again.

STARTS CHASE.

It was about 10 o'clock this morning when a German triplane suddenly descended from the clouds, apparently because of engine trouble, until it was only some 1500 meters over the city of Toul. The American flyers were on the alert and some of them headed for the fighting line to await the enemy on his return.

Lufbery and the pilot of another machine made after the German who quickly ran away from the direction of the line, the two American machines following him. Eight miles away from the enemy's line, Lufbery was seen to attack from under the tail, but then he drew off as if his machine gun had been jammed. Two minutes later he attacked again from the same position and almost immediately his machine burst into flames.

The Americans on the ground and hundreds of Frenchmen and women going to the church along the country roads were horror stricken as they saw the airplane, like a ball of fire, plunging earthward. Suddenly they saw the form of a man leap from the machine.

FALLS IN GARDEN.

Lufbery's body fell in a little flowering garden while his airplane, still burning, dropped to the ground 400 yards away. By the time the first American had reached the spot the body of the famous flyer had been taken by the French to the City Hall, where it later was covered with the French tricolor and great piles of roses and wild flowers.

Maj. Raoul Lufbery has been attached to the American Aviation Corps less than four months, but before that he had made a brilliant record as a member of the La Fayette escadrille, with the French army, and was generally accounted the leader of the American aces. Only recently he brought down his eighteenth enemy machine, which so far as is known was the number standing to his credit when he was killed, and which is by far the largest credited to any American aviator, either with the American or the French army.

BORN IN FRANCE.

Lufbery's father was a native-born American, but his mother was a French woman and Lufbery himself was born in France thirty-four years ago. For the greater part of his life he was a traveler, taking up occupations in various parts of the world. He served at one time for eighteen months with the American Army in the Philippines and was successively occupied at times in Algeria, Egypt, Turkey and in various parts of Europe.

Lufbery joined the French aviation service in 1916 and soon began to develop marked skill as an airman with the famous La Fayette escadrille. By November of that year he had shot down six machines and had been cited for bravery and early last year he won the cross of the Legion of Honor. Later he was presented with the gold medal of the Aero Club of France, the British military medal, the war medal of the Aero Club of America and several times had been cited in French army orders, once as "an incomparable pilot." He had several narrow escapes from death.

When the American air service began to assume active shape in France, Lufbery was commissioned a major in the American Army and late in January of the present year was inducted into the United States service with that rank.

PRO-GERMAN PASTOR IS RUN OUT OF TOWN.

EDWARDSVILLE (Ill.) May 20.—The Rev. John D. Metzler, pastor of St. Boniface German Catholic Church here, tonight departed for parts unknown at the request of the local Committee of the Council of Defense, following his refusal Saturday to allow the St. Boniface Ladies' Society's dishes to be used in entertaining a contingent of the Great Lakes Naval Training Station Band.

This is the second time within a month that Father Metzler has left town for fear of bodily harm at the hands of loyalists. April 5 he departed after a tar and feather party planned to convert him to the daylight-saving plan, to which he had refused to conform. He is the second alleged disloyal minister to be ordered permanently out of town here.

RIVERS AND HARBORS BILL IN CONFERENCE.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 20.—The Rivers and Harbors Bill, carrying $21,572,000 and limited to work essential during the war, was passed today by the Senate with an increase of $2,344,000 over the House bill. It now goes to conference.

The only new projects in the bill are $204,000 for dredging in Los Angeles Harbor, contingent on the building of a dry dock there, and $140,000 for improvement of the Mobile harbor.

Sweetness.

SUGAR RATIONS WILL BE LESS.

New Regulations July 5 to Cut Quantity.

Nonessentials Get Eighty Per Cent. of Last Year.

Housewives not Affected Says Merritt.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 20.—New Sugar-rationing regulations limiting the quantity that may be purchased and used by foodstuff manufacturers, which became effective today until July 5, may be supplanted then by more severe rules as a further conservation measure, Ralph P. Merritt, Federal Food Commissioner for California, announced today.

Manufacturers of less essential foodstuffs will be limited to 80 per cent. of last year's requirements, while those whose product is classed as essential may obtain their full requirements under the certificate distribution plan. No manufacturer may purchase sugar without the certificates issued by the Food Administration and various county and city branches authorized to issue them.

Housewives are not affected by the new rules. They may purchase a maximum of twenty-five pounds for domestic use and more for canning or preserving on presentation of a written statement that the excess over twenty-five pounds is to be used for these purposes.

Although the plan for strict distribution will prevent waste and undue use of sugar for nonessential purposes, rigid conservation in households will be necessary to maintain supplies and prevent a possible shortage until the next crop is ready for market, Merritt said.

NEARLY BILLION FOR RAILWAY NECESSITIES.

IMPROVEMENTS NEGLECTED IN PAST THREE YEARS TO BE ATTENDED TO.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 20.—Nearly a billion dollars will be used by the nation's railroads this year for improvements and equipment, according to a budget approved and published today by the Railroad Administration authorizing the expenditure of $927,961,318.

Secretary McAdoo made it plain that the administration, while not encouraging extension of tracks during the war emergency, will allow the railroads to make many improvements which they have neglected during the past three years.

U-BOAT SUNK, CREW TAKEN BY TRAWLER.

WASHINGTON, May 20.—The sinking of a German submarine by a French trawler is reported today in an official dispatch from France. The trawler, commanded by First Mate Leroux, left a patrol base and, meeting the submarine, promptly sunk her and took prisoner the entire crew, including the captain.

The captain of a Spanish schooner who was on board the submarine was taken on the trawler, which returned without injury.

Benny Leonard is lightweight champion of the world and as far as Los Angeles is concerned can claim title to all of the near-by planets to boot, as he walked away with it. It was a case of make Tawm McCarey and his wife glee to see the beautiful footwork and clean punching of Benny in his bout with Louis Ruhlin, which furnished the wind-up for the big boxing carnival at the Shrine Auditorium last night.

The crowd raised something like $12,000 and a lump on Louie Rees's head during the course of the evening, all of which is something of a tribute to the popularity of the champion who was willing to work for the government at $30 a month when he could be taking more than that every minute of a ten-round go with fighting dubs in the East. Benny is a boy that the boxing game may well be proud of.

He did all that was expected of him. He charged in and swung right and left with might and main. Had any of those swings connected with a vital spot there would be a new world's lightweight champion today, but Louie took a whole lot nearer hitting Jeffries, who was referee, than he did the champ. Leonard's left and left jarred Louis from head to flat feet and at no time was he in danger of getting his head cleared.

The evening, as is customary and necessary on such occasions, was given over to introductions, announcements, presentations, auctioneering, bum decisions and general generosity on the part of the fans. Something like $12000 was taken in at the gate and at least as much again was given the soldiers and sailors' athletic fund in the form of donations by the crowd.

Lack of space do not permit of a list of the donors of cups or the amount of cash, of the buyers of dinners and so on, but sufficient to say that when Benny Leonard's name was brought $150 from Jim Jeffries, a former friend of Benny's in New York, and donations of like nature from the order of the day, the soldiers and sailors will be able to help themselves for sports with some material.

The opening bout of the evening was Benny Weston, a new face in the ring, who handed tough Teddy Lewis a high-class lacing, and, although the decision met with quite a bit of argument from the gallery, deserved a fine shade at the finish. Weston dropped Levine twice with terrific blows to the body and landed a few of the clean wallops.

Jordan made a flat-nosed mess of Abe Lincoln in the semi-windup of the evening. Jordan's left hand kept pumping in and out from Lincoln's beezer with painful regularity throughout the four innings, and, though the soldier kept coming right in for more and had lots of steam in his wallops, Jordan's margin was huge.

Billy Wilson and Frank Crowley mixed it for four rounds in the next event and Wilson's heavy punching in the two final sessions won him a nice decision. Crowley's cleverness kept things at least even in the first half of the battle, but a few bone-crushers on Crowley's paper jaw in the third round took all his steam away, and Wilson won.

Phil Salvadore was given a decision over Willie Hunefeld in a lightweight event and the crowd was still yelling about it when the show broke up two hours later. Salvadore was expected to win because of his past record, but Hunefeld put up a splendid exhibition and the worst he could possibly have gotten was a draw. They should meet again.

Willie Meehan staged one of his well-known clown exhibitions and won a decision from Kid Kenneth. Willie, in addition to being the funniest thing to look at that ever stepped into a ring, can fight like a ton of bull terriers and his terrific swats in Kenneth's ribs sounded like the beating of the big waves on the shore at the beach.

Eddie McAuliffe and Kid Mende started to put on a four-round slugging match and succeeded in getting about 93 per cent. of it out of the way, when all of a sudden Eddie ran into a glove that was floating around in the air and was knocked as cold as anybody could possibly be and live to ask what hit him. He had a shade at the time he was ruined, and the bout had less than half a minute to go.

Young Fritz, France, Murphy or whatever it is that he calls himself, succeeded in battling himself into a draw with Monk Fowler. Fowler did the straighter punching, but his opponent forced matters from the start, and had Monk exceedingly weary at the finish. The draw decision was howled at loudly by followers of both boxers. Young F. F. Murphy won the toss for the cup.

JOE BENJAMIN TO REAPPEAR TONIGHT.

Joe Benjamin, who beat Young France and Young Ketchel and drew with Monk Fowler, will be seen in action at the Vernon arena again tonight, when he meets Harry Anderson, one of the fastest lightweights of the Northwest. Benjamin and Anderson met in Portland some time ago, going six fast rounds to a draw.

Both boys have worked hard for tonight's bout. They have been rivals for a long time, and neither has taken any chances of his opponent having the edge as far as condition is concerned.

Anderson is a bit the cleverest of the two, but Benjamin is one of the roughest lightweights that has appeared at Vernon, and has made good in every start here. The loser of tonight's bout will have to look elsewhere for future bouts, while the winner will be in line for another chance.

Joe Neito, a clever featherweight, will re-enter the ring and take a chance with Kid Mende. The latter is a tough boy for an opponent, who has had a long lay-off, but Neito's cleverness is expected to enable him to make a great battle with the South Side boxer.

Two San Francisco youngsters will make their first starts in the local ring, Roy Rainer meeting Tommy Richards and Joe Thomas taking on Kid Denby.

SMOOTH AGAIN AT BEAR LAKE.

Anglers' Rights Remain as Before—Compromise.

Supervisors will Regulate Safety for Public.

Fine Catch from Mill Creek Educates Fishermen.

The controversy over regulation of fishing and boating on Bear Lake has been settled out of court on a "status quo" basis.

Deputy H. I. Pritchard telephoned to the Fish and Game Commission yesterday morning that the San Bernardino Board of Supervisors had arranged to install landing places at a nominal charge, concessionaires paying direct to the county, thus avoiding any establishment of rights approaching "color of title" to the privileges claimed by the public in Bear Lake through the establishment of trout fishing there by repeated annual plantings made by the Fish and Game Commission.

As the Board of Supervisors has the same power to regulate speed of motor boats as the city of Los Angeles successfully maintained in San Pedro bay, it follows that proper restrictions upon boating to insure public safety are also within the rights and duties of the local San Bernardino authorities. This is considered "good news" by the 30,000 licensed anglers of Southern California, whose dollars, as expended by the State, made the Bear Lake fishing what it is. The ever-present bugaboo of "another Little Bear," therefore, is laid quiet, if indeed anything was intended beyond the plain statements of the Bear Valley companies that they acted to safeguard lives and sport.

As a proof of the fishing that is to be had in places the public passes by daily, and for that reason "passes up," Leigh Garnsey, well-known and enthusiastic local angler, had on exhibition yesterday the classiest stream catch that has been taken from a Southern California creek in many a day. Twenty foot-long fish were his "picture basket," and the strangest part of the story is where Garnsey got them. He 'phoned to the Fish and Game Commission yesterday that the catch was made right from Mill Creek above Redlands, just below the Edison power-house, and within sight of the main thoroughfare to Bear Valley, already traveled by thousands.

Mill Creek, by common consent, was conceded as "fished out" soon after the boulevard was completed. Evidently the fish have profited by the rest given them through misguided public opinion. It all goes to show that this is not always the surest guide to follow in going a-fishing.

Philadelphia tied the score again in the fourteenth on a pass, an out and a single by Walker.

In the twelfth Detroit forged ahead on singles by Vitt and Cobb, and Heilman's sacrifice fly, but the Athletics evened it up for the third time on singles by Walker, Burns and Shannon.

BOSTON, May 20.—Boston slammed Bagby for seven runs on six hits and Sunday's error in the fifth inning. Groom finished for the visitors, and was hit freely. Boston won, 11 to 1. Boston batted safely in every inning but that of twenty-four men. Mays held Cleveland to five hits, in the eighth he hit Speaker squarely on tip of the head. TIMELY HITTING.

CHICAGO, May 20.—Timely hitting, which included R. Wheat's double and Myers's home run, gave Brooklyn an error by Hollocher, gave Brooklyn a commanding lead over Chicago, and they won the first game of the series, 5 to 2. Walker, who started for the locals was driven off the mound, following Wheat's double. Myers, the first to face Carter, made his circuit drive when the ball rounded over the left field screen.

BABY SHOWS AT CROWN CITY.

Skilled Advice, Consultation, Conservation Plan.

Red Cross House-to-House Canvass in Progress.

Thirteen Drafted Men Depart for Camp McDowell.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, May 21.—Regular weekly baby shows are being planned for the Crown City by the Pasadena Women's Committee of the Council of Defense, which is undertaking a practical system of baby conservation in accordance with the wishes of President Wilson, expressed through the Department of Labor. The present tentative plan is to establish a permanent health center where mothers may bring babies once a week for skilled advice and consultation under the direction of physicians and nurses. A special effort will be made to induce prospective mothers to attend the conferences.

Trained nurses, children's specialists and physicians are actively cooperating with the committee, under whose auspices a baby show is to be given for one week, June 6 to 12. The show will run for seven days, exclusive of Sunday. Already 4000 babies have been enrolled by their mothers, and elaborate details to procure statistics, for which Washington has asked, and to make the show educational in every way, have been undertaken.

Organizations throughout the city are also actively interesting themselves. For each day of the show representatives of some organization will be on hand as a reception committee, as follows: June 6, Thursday, Women's Committee, Council of Defense; Friday, City Commission, health and welfare department; Saturday morning, Parent-Teachers' Federation; Saturday night will be fathers' night, with representatives from the Board of Labor officiating; Monday, free dispensary; Tuesday, Red Cross day, featuring home service department; Wednesday, Edna Alter Settlement workers; Thursday, Federated Women's Clubs.

URGE SUPERVISORS.

At the advisory meeting of the Women's Committee of the Council of Defense yesterday morning a resolution was adopted urging the County Board of Supervisors to provide for the continuance of a county food demonstrator. Mrs. Jessica C. Hazzard has been carrying on this work under the direction of Washington and the agricultural department of the University of California. Financial assistance has recently been withdrawn from the home demonstrating agents throughout the country, and unless the Supervisors can undertake the expense this highly-important war work must be discontinued, say the women.

RED CROSS DRIVE ON.

The success of the Pasadena War Societies organization, which is handling the house-to-house canvass of the city in the Red Cross drive, is being watched with interest, for it is the initial undertaking of the organization.

Working under the direction of ninety commodores are 600 captains, each one of whom has two or more lieutenants. The captains are appointed in their own neighborhoods, where, with their lieutenants, they are presumed to know every man, woman and child. They are under instructions to either have a contribution from everyone or the reason of failure to contribute be written down in a standard note book with which they have been provided.

The commodores report to the Pasadena War Finance Committee of which J. B. Coulston is the chairman of the Red Cross drive. Stuart W. French and William H. Conklin are assisting in the management of the campaign.

Children of the city are to be encouraged to make contributions through their schools of money or Thrift Stamps which they have earned individually and not to ask their parents for funds. The principals have been called into consultation to effect the school campaign.

Churches or other organizations have not been encouraged to make contributions as if this is done there is no way in which a check may be kept on the individual. The Pasadena quota is $168,000.

HOLD ANNUAL MEETING.

The board of directors of the Pasadena Board of Trade will hold their regular weekly meeting and luncheon at noon today. Preparations will be made for the annual meeting which takes place next Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock. S. Hazard Halsted, newly elected president to the vacancy left by the late Fred H. Wilcox, will preside. Directors will be elected at the annual meeting. The directors will decide today if they will give the Goldwyn Pictures Corporation special inducements for a studio here.

GOD SPEED TO THIRTEEN.

Thirteen drafted men were given parting cheer by a citizen's committee as they boarded a Santa Fe train en route to Fort McDowell. They were: John C. Weller, Harley W. Wadsworth, Conrad Barreras, John E. Glynn, Louis W. Elliott, Donald B. Brooks, John W. Brown, Robert Laing, William Kelley, Walter F. Schafer, William J. Hankammer, Wesley S. Johnson and Myron R. Harris.

Pasadena's roll of honor at the Board of Trade rooms now contains 1425 names. The two local selective service boards are to handle the registrants on June 5. No outside places of registration will be provided.

BEACH FISHING EXCITING.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

REDONDO BEACH, May 20.—A heavy run of Jew fish caused excitement among the Sunday anglers at the triangular pier yesterday. The heaviest caught was a 305-pounder, which was landed by John P. Allen, a local angler. James G. Putters has three of the monstrous fish to his credit, one caught yesterday, which weighed 278 pounds when dressed, and two today. Herring, halibut and mackerel are also running heavy, according to the reports of the wholesale fishermen.

TWO DAYS DEVOTED TO RED CROSS DRIVE.

DESERT TOWN CHAPTERS PLAN EXCITING DEMONSTRATION AT RANDSBURG.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

RANDSBURG, May 18.—The desert towns of Randsburg, Johannesburg and Trona are not lacking in patriotism and as a fitting demonstration that they are against anything German is evidenced by the preparations being made for a monster Red Cross benefit to begin at Randsburg next Saturday night. A special show, "The Spy of Randsburg," will be put on at Y. A. Hall Saturday evening. Sunday there will be outdoor sports, barbecue, a moving-picture show and a dance and the proceeds to be derived from these attractions will all go to help Uncle Sam's fighting men.

The Inyo county cattle men have arranged to stage an old-fashioned rodeo, which will include some thrilling acts of bronco riding and roping. These events, it is said, will be filmed by a crack camera man, who is to come from Culver City for that purpose. Baron de Ropp, president of the Trona Corporation of Searles Lake has donated a silver loving cup to be awarded to the best lady dancer. About fifty rooms have been engaged in the hotels of the three towns by Red Cross chapters from Barstow, Mojave and Bakersfield. A parking place has been set aside for autos and will be in charge of officers from San Bernardino and Kern counties. The desert towns expect to go away "over the top" for the Red Cross on this particular occasion.

HARBOR INDUSTRIES NOW EMPLOY 20,000.

CITY COMMISSIONERS PLACE BAN ON ALL DOGS, CATS AND PARROTS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LONG BEACH, May 20.—More than 13,000 persons have secured employment in harbor industries through the local government employment bureau in the last eleven months, it was announced today.

Those out of work, who were placed in fish canneries, woolen mills or shipbuilding plants principally, numbered more than 1600 a month.

The bureau reports that there are now about 20,000 men employed in the shipyards on Long Beach and Los Angeles harbors. It is estimated that 3500 women are employed in the various industries.

The local Federal employment bureau covers a district that takes in the Long Beach Shipbuilding Company, Fulton Company, Fellows Boat Works and the French-American Shipbuilding Company of Newport Beach, engaged in turning out cement vessels.

The Southwestern Shipbuilding Company is now being established on Terminal Island and will soon put to work 3000 men to start with. The Southern California Shipbuilding Company will also soon be in operation in the Los Angeles Harbor district.

NO DOGS OR CATS.

Another unique war conservation measure has bobbed up in this city. Hereafter persons desirous of stopping an auto must hire, before they leave home, some one to care for dog, cat or parrot, or else loan them out to a neighbor until they return, as all pets are now taboo in the Long Beach hotels, rooming and apartment-houses, or at least in those belonging to the Apartment and Hotel Association. That organization, meeting today, passed a resolution prohibiting the admittance of pets this summer.

The apartment-house and hotel proprietors took the stand that the conservation of food in war times demanded that there be no unnecessary pampering of animals, and that for that reason guests should be discouraged in the keeping of them. A recommendation that no animals be allowed in establishments conducted by members of the organization was adopted.

BROTHER DIES.

George Wallace, brother of former Lieut.-Gov. A. J. Wallace, Mrs. R. N. Young and Mrs. J. C. Healy of this city, died yesterday in Freeport, N. Y., according to word received here today. Mr. Wallace was a former member of the New York Assembly, and the founder of several banks in New York State.

DRAFT BOYS DEPART; MISS "LITTLE MOTHER."

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA MONICA, May 20.—When seven selected men, including Judge Samuel J. Crawford of Ocean Park, left here late today for Los Angeles, bound for Fort McDowell, San Francisco, the cheering presence of "Little Mother" Lederman of Venice, was greatly missed. This was the first time the little woman, who has cheered every contingent of departing selected men with something more substantial than a smile, no matter how unseasonable the hour of departure, has missed being present with parting gifts of cigarettes, candy and magazines. The gifts were sent by her today, but she could not come, as the "Little Mother" is facing the loss of her husband. The latter, Mr. Luke Lederman, for twenty-one years a faithful employee of Hamburger's store in Los Angeles, is on his deathbed at the family home, No. 46 Thornton avenue, Venice. He is so low that his faithful wife does not leave his bedside, even for her "boys."

AUTOMOBILE SMASHUP; BOOZE ALLEGED CAUSE.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

VENICE, May 20.—Returning from Venice early today, a party of four men in a car owned and driven by F. R. Stone of No. 1232 Sanborn street, overturned on Washington boulevard, near Palms, turned turtle and precipitated the quartette in the ditch. Stone must appear before Judge W. A. Rennie Wednesday afternoon to answer to the charge of driving while intoxicated. His companions and himself were taken to the Venice Emergency Hospital by Constable Frank Bartin, but after an examination by Police Surgeon I. L. Mages, it was found they had escaped with nothing more serious than scratches and bruises. The others in the car were E. C. Griffin of No. 508 East Fifth street, Los Angeles; Arthur Gubner of Watts and Jesse Stewart, whose address was not learned.

Youth's Downfall.

ALLEGED DISLOYAL BOY THRASHED, EXPELLED.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA MONICA, May 20.—James Brown, fifteen-year-old pupil of the Lincoln grammar school, who was soundly thrashed by two thirteen-year-old girls attending the same school, Henrietta Hernage and Marguerite Sparr, when he made disloyal and insulting remarks in their presence last Friday as they were returning from school, was today identified by the little girls, and then promptly suspended by Principal John G. McNeely of the school. Although the boy denied making any disloyal remarks, the statement that he had done so was supported in writing by a dozen or more boys and girls of both the Lincoln and the Jefferson school, he having, according to these statements, made highly disloyal remarks while attending a Sloyd class at the latter school.

The suspension of the boy was referred by Principal McNeely to Horace M. Rebok, Superintendent of Schools, who upheld the principal's action and recommended that young Brown should be sent either to Whittier or to the George Junior Republic. According to Mr. Rebok, the patriotic little heroines are entitled to unstinted praise for their plucky vanquishing of the traducer of America, but he believes that the boy is of subnormal mentality and not always responsible for his words and actions. It was learned that his father had left his mother. The mother, Mrs. M. C. Brown, who is a respectable, hard-working woman of this community, is believed to be absolutely loyal, is a member of the G.A.R. auxiliary, and comes of Revolutionary stock.

RED CROSS WORKERS PROPOSE HONOR ROLL.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA MONICA, May 20.—With the object of getting a Red Cross subscription from every one in the Santa Monica Bay district, irrespective of the total amount raised, Chairman Thomas McCall today announced that a daily honor roll would be published of the firms 100 per cent. of whose employees subscribed. The chairman also announced that no time would be wasted in arguing with would-be slackers, but if they did not respond with a contribution, their names would be promptly turned over to the local vigilance committee for summary action. More than forty workers today began the campaign in this district, which includes this city, Venice and Sawtelle, with the determination of far exceeding the $10,000 quota asked.

HARBOR SHIPYARD MAKES BIG ADVANCE.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LOS ANGELES HARBOR, May 20.—A jump of sixteen places in the standing of the Los Angeles Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company among forty-six other steel shipbuilding firms in the United States, is shown by the monthly report of the Emergency Fleet Corporation, this company now being in twenty-seventh place.

The standings of the various shipyards are rated according to the dead-weight tonnage of vessels under construction in the yards and the progress made on them. In the report of last month the Los Angeles firm stood forty-third in the list, and great progress made in every line of work at the shipyard has advanced the yard to twenty-seventh place.

Without an Operation

For twenty-five years we have been curing diseases of the rectum and lower bowel. During that time our experience has enabled us to develop a method that is superior to others. We cure without surgery, and our patients are not confined in bed and seldom lose a moment's time from their business.

Our method is not a "home cure" nor a "correspondence treatment," but it is an application of skilled treatments administered under the most rigid antiseptic conditions in our office.

Drs. White and Wainwright:

Put me down as a real friend of your treatment of Hemorrhoids. I suffered for twenty years. I came to a point where I could not do justice to my business as a jeweler. I was almost down and out. Now I am well and feel elastic and contented. I can now do my work with pleasure. I am happy. For all this I give you the credit.

3511 Central Ave., Los Angeles, Cal. MAX SPITZER, JR.

"302 Union Labor Temple, Los Angeles, Cal."

We solicit old, severe and obstinate cases of fistula, prolapsus, fissure and ulceration that have heretofore resisted all treatments employed. If you are a sufferer from rectal trouble, we invite you to investigate our method thoroughly by talking or writing to any of our cured patients. If you will call at our office we shall be pleased to give you the names and addresses of many well-known Los Angeles people we have cured, whom you may interview in regard to our treatment.

ATTENDANCE DECREASE WORRIES PICTURE MEN.

POINT OUT THAT AMUSEMENTS ARE NECESSARY, AND PLAN PUBLICITY CAMPAIGN.

At a meeting held yesterday of Los Angeles motion-picture producers and exhibitors, steps were taken to initiate a campaign to bring back the attendance at local theaters to a normal standing.

Government revenue derived from the 10 per cent. war tax on theaters has dropped $125,000 during the last month, it was declared. Proposals to launch a big publicity campaign and to provide a fund therefor were approved. Exhibitors who wanted to wait for some active approval from Washington in regard to this matter were shown an article which appeared in The Times some days ago, coming from officials at the Treasury Department, which said in part that business must not stop, and that amusements are needed to guard morals and to provide proper relaxation. This article was read by J. A. Quinn.

A wire from William A. Brady assured the assembly that this theatrical man will do all in his power to interest the government officials in the fight of the Los Angeles exhibitors.

One of the exhibitors stated that nearly every industry in Los Angeles is in some way or other dependent of the motion-picture theater. If the screens are not patronized the exchange man will suffer. In turn, the producer will suffer, and in line with this depression thousands of employees will also take a large amount of revenue from local stores and industries. It was stated that the motion-picture industry spends fully $35,000,000 in Los Angeles a year.

A committee on publicity has been appointed to work in line with a committee on finance. One of the four-minute men present at the meeting stated that his organization will help the exhibitors. Among those present were Jesse Lasky, Thomas Ince, Samuel Goldfish, J. A. Quinn, T. L. Tally, Fred Miller, Mike Gore, Harry Caulfield, Frank MacDonald, Sid Grauman, Emil Kehrlein, Kenneth MacGaffey, W. Taylor and Richard Spier.

AGAINST WIDENING OF HILL STREET.

While more than 70 per cent. of the property owners within the assessment district petitioned for the opening and widening of Hill street between Washington street and Santa Barbara avenue, it developed yesterday that strong protests will be made against the project. The Council set Wednesday, May 29, as the date for hearing protests.

The protestants yesterday presented petitions signed by several hundred property owners.

War Board Ruling.

PRICE OF WOOL IS UNCHANGED.

Figures Established July 30, 1917, Prevail.

Dealer Can't Make More Than One and Half Cents.

Government Retains Prior Rights on Clips.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 20.—The War Industries Board has fixed the price of the 1918 wool clip at the prices established July 30, 1917, at Atlantic seaboard markets, on the scoured basis.

The government is to have prior rights on the clips for its needs at those prices, and the remainder is subject to allocation for other uses under the direction of the board.

As the needs of the government require concentration of wool close to points of consumption, distributing centers have been approved at which wool may be distributed only.

For territory wool the centers will be Portland, Or.; Chicago, New York, St. Louis, Boston and Philadelphia.

The only exception is that clips of 1000 pounds or under may be sold by the owner.

FLEECE WOOL.

Fleece wool will be considered as that grown east of the Mississippi; also in Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, Arkansas and Louisiana; also those parts of Kansas, Nebraska, North and South Dakota and other localities where the same general conditions prevail. All wool not listed as fleece wool shall be considered territory wool.

Approved dealers will be entitled to a gross profit in no case to exceed 1¼ cents per pound on the total season's business, this profit to cover all expenses from grower to loading wool on board cars.

The grower shall receive fair prices for his wool, based on the Atlantic seaboard price as established on July 30, 1917, less the profit to the dealer as stated above and less freight to the seaboard, moisture, shrinkage and interest.

In no case shall this be construed to mean that there shall be more than 1¼ cents gross profits made from the time wool leaves growers' hands until it arrives at the distributing center.

NO PROFITEERING.

In addition to said prices, the government is to pay a further sum equal to 4 per cent. of the selling prices to cover compensation or commission to approved dealers for their services in collecting and distributing wool.

As a guard against profiteering the books of all approved dealers in distributing centers shall be at all times open to government inspection, and if it be found that their gross profits, including the aforesaid commission of 4 per cent., are in excess of 5 per cent. on the season's business, then such gross profits shall be disposed of as the government decides. The books of the country dealers shall likewise be open to government inspection.

The grower shall be entitled to receive an advance up to but not exceeding 75 per cent. of the fair estimated value of his wool.

FOR HARBOR WORK.

Council Gives Favorable Hearing to Request for Large Loan to Create New Land at the Port.

Favorable action upon the request of the Harbor Commission for a loan of $300,000 was indicated by the Council yesterday, following a conference of the two bodies. The money is needed for the creation of new lands in the harbor and to make several important improvements.

The commission wants to spend $10,000 monthly for a year in building a sea wall in Fish Harbor. This will result in the reclamation of 140 acres, it is stated. It also needs $180,000 for the construction of two wharves and a bulkhead.

A majority of the members of the Council are in favor of lending the money to the commission, it is said.

TO RETAIL CREDIT MEN.

E. G. Judah, chairman of the water donations board; Leo S. Chandler of the Red Cross salvage bureau; J. M. Rust, credit manager of the Union Oil Company, and Mrs. Kemper B. Campbell will be the speakers at a meeting of the Associated Retail Credit Men at the Sierra Madre Club this evening.

A Shampoo Worth Trying

It is not necessary to shampoo your hair so frequently if it is entirely and properly cleansed each time by the use of a really good shampoo. The easiest to use and quickest drying shampoo that we can recommend to our readers is one that brings out all the natural beauty of the hair and may be enjoyed at very little expense, by dissolving a teaspoonful of Canthrox, which can be obtained from any druggist's, in a cup of hot water. This makes a full cup of shampoo liquid, enough so it is easy to apply it to all the hair instead of just to the top of the head. This, when rubbed into the scalp and onto every strand of hair, chemically dissolves all impurities. It is very soothing and cooling in its action, as well as beneficial to both scalp and hair. After rinsing out the lather so created, you will find the scalp is fresh, clean and free from dandruff, while the hair dries quickly and evenly, developing a bright luster and a soft fluffiness that makes it seem very heavy.

ARIZONA BANKER DIES IN THIS CITY

EDWARD GURLEY CARUTHERS VICTIM OF PNEUMONIA AT SUMMER HOME.

Edward Gurley Caruthers, president of the First National Bank of Yuma, Ariz., died of pneumonia at his summer home here, No. 2656 Ellendale place, early yesterday, just a week after his arrival in this city.

He was born in Kimbel, Tex., in 1866, and went to Arizona thirty years ago, where he soon became one of the prominent figures in business circles of the State. Besides being president of the First National Bank of Yuma, he was at the head of the banking firm of E. Caruthers of Somerton, Ariz. He was the son of Capt. Samuel Caruthers and was himself a Confederate veteran.

Mr. Caruthers was a Mason, and devoted much of his time to charity. He took a leading part in the Liberty Loan drive, the work leaving him in a weakened condition. Besides his widow, he leaves a daughter, Mrs. Norman B. Conway, wife of Capt. Conway of Atlanta, Ga., and a son, Samuel Ramey Caruthers of Arizona.

Funeral arrangements will not be completed until the arrival of Capt. Conway, who is on her way to Los Angeles. Mr. and Mrs. Caruthers had made their home here during the summers for the last three years.

IS GERMAN PRISONER

Attorney Receives Word from Brother, Listed as Missing, Saying That He's Been Captured.

Griffith Jones, an attorney, received a bit of cheering news yesterday from his brother, Capt. Millie Griffith Jones, who had a command in the British army. Capt. Jones was heralded in official gazettes among the "missing," having been last seen fighting bravely in "No Man's Land," in one of the early March attempts of the Kaiser to pierce the British line in the Picardy region.

All attempts to locate Capt. Jones after the onset failed, and it was supposed that he had been killed. But a postal card received yesterday by Attorney Jones, signed by his brother, carries the news that he is a prisoner in a German camp, and that he is doing as well as could be expected under the circumstances.

WEATHER ELSEWHERE

Ed Sod Routed in Flank Attack by Stiff Breeze from Lake.

Chicago Shivers.

BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH TO THE CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE LOS ANGELES TIMES. May 20.—Unless bulletins from the front prove to the contrary to what is expected, the man with the straw hat from now on will be an unusual and welcome sight. Old Man Sod's drive toward new heat records came to a jarring halt today, followed by a precipitous retreat of the mercury, and a seventy-left and long-occupied Chicago.

The flank attack by a stiff breeze from the lake started the rout, and when ordinarily the afternoon sun would have started there was a drive in the other direction, which continued with only temporary halts throughout the entire day. The temperature tonight at 10 o'clock the end of the day was 52, full 23 deg. below the day's high mark, and the end of the storm is still to come, according to the weather observer's office.

Announcement.

TELEPHONE MERGER IS PRACTICALLY COMPLETE.

Instruments of Two Systems are Used Interchangeably for First Time. Full Service Coming Soon.

H. HARON, division superintendent of the Southern California Telephone Company, consolidated Home and Sunset systems, announced last night that the final merger of the two great systems now practically complete. Instruments of the two systems have been used interchangeably for the first time. Mr. Mason explained, however, that the public must not Immediately expect to be able to get a Home number over a Sunset instrument or vice versa, although he indicated that service is coming soon. It will be in effect in some exchanges within a few days. His statement follows:

"Practically all of the physical work of the merger of the Southern California Telephone Company's Home and manual system have been completed, but war conditions have been such as to not satisfactorily that little more we are training the operators through actual experience to the proper handling of the consolidated traffic when the systems are unified.

"For this reason we are completing only calls from manual stations to automatic telephones in certain districts, however, is not yet in full use of the general public will not be put into effect through careful experiments are assured that the consolidation will stand up under tremendously heavy traffic that will inevitably follow the completion of the merger.

"We will distribute the new consolidated telephone books just as fast as the exchanges are ready for the consolidated traffic, but, for its own protection, the company will attempt to take undue advantage of our efforts until the system is put fully into operation.

"WATCH FOR THE BOOKS.

"It will therefore necessary that until we notice the telephone business is carried on as at present, the double telephone system will be in use longer, since it will be discontinued, until the new books are distributed, for the public adequate service in any case.

"Where telephone systems were combined in an eastern city the public rush to try out the consolidated service was so great that the operating force was disorganized, the result that it took more than an hour to straighten out the tangle that must not occur in Los Angeles. A heavy consequent loss of time to business men must be avoided through the fault of the company, but through the overeagerness of the people themselves.

ONE BILL IN JUNE.

"The company wants to be fair and, as a result, whether the merger is completed during the month of June or not, (and that will depend entirely upon circumstances.) The bill of the company which will be sent out June 1, will be entirely upon a one-telephone basis.

"In other words, if a subscriber has registered in this office the fact that following consolidation he will require only an automatic telephone there will be no June bill issued for his manual telephone. The same will hold true if he has elected to retain the manual telephone.

"Until the duplicate telephones are removed, therefore, the public will receive from June 1 until the merger is complete the use of both telephones at the cost of one, and after the merger is finished will of course receive the consolidated service.

"We wish to thank the public for its forebearance during the consolidation period and to ask for its continued co-operation during the particularly critical period which we face before the merger is complete and the service settles down to a regular standard unified basis. This of course can only come when the operators and the gentral public both understand just how calls from automatic to manual or from manual to automatic telephones must necessarily be handled.

"For that reason when you receive your new telephone directory study carefully the directions for placing your calls, and until the books are delivered please continue to place your calls as at the present time, using both telephone."

LANE VISIT DELAYED.

The programme for the entertainment of Secretary Lane and Assistant Secretary Bradley of the Interior Department, arranged by the Chamber of Commerce, has been postponed until further advices from Mr. Lane, who wired President Mueller yesterday from the Grand Canyon that a stop there of longer duration than was planned will be made. The party was scheduled to arrive in Los Angeles at 2:40 o'clock today via the Santa Fe.

At Miramar.

MADAME PUGET SEVERELY HURT

Lecturer for Children of France in Accident.

Thrown from Auto When it Collides with Another.

Lower Limbs Now Placed in Plaster Casts.

Mme. Simone Puget, brilliant young French lecturer, here in the interest of a fund for the fatherless children of France, barely escaped death in an automobile accident at Miramar Saturday, when she was thrown from the machine, suffering such injuries to her lower limbs that they had to be placed in plaster casts. So severe were the shock and pain from the injuries that Mme. Puget swooned, recovering only after physicians had given her restoratives. At first it was thought both legs were broken.

Mme. Puget, who is at Miramar resting after weeks of lecturing, was returning from an automobile ride with Mrs. Edward Vail, when the machine in which they were riding collided with another just as they started to turn in to the Miramar Hotel. Mrs. Vail is suffering from shock, but was not thrown from the machine, and escaped further injury.

As soon as the plaster casts can be removed from her limbs and she has sufficiently recovered from the accident, Mme. Puget will go to San Francisco to lecture under the direction of L. N. Brunswig of this city, head of the committee for the benefit of the Fatherless children of France.

Mme. Puget is the widow of the French poet, killed in battle the first year of the war. Later she nursed back to health Lieut. F. G. Singer, an American serving in the French army, and to whom she announced her engagement when the two were at the Hotel Huntington last winter—he to regain his strength and she to nurse him, when she was not lecturing on behalf of the children of France.

"Oceans of Love."

TWO GIRLS ARRESTED AS MARRYING SYNDICATE.

"I WISH you oceans of love with a kiss on the top of each wave," is the endearing line with which Miss Mae Smith and Mrs. Elsie Byrnes are alleged to have drawn numerous dollars from the pockets of unsuspecting sweethearts with whom they corresponded.

The two girls were arrested in the postoffice at San Diego yesterday as they were opening the many letters received by them from men, each of whom had sent the railroad fare to the fair correspondent that she might join him to become his bride. The girls had $400 in the Yuma bank, money in their possession, money arriving in the mails, and more letters on the way, the police state.

Postal Inspector Jarvis left yesterday for San Diego to take the girls in charge, who are meanwhile languishing in the Mission Valley Magdalen Hospital in charge of the health board.

One of the victims of the girls reported to Inspector Jarvis that he had contributed $40 to the railroad fund of the two girls. His name is R. M. Nixon of Portland, and he sent the money for one of the girls to come to him to be married.

William Robinson of Silcott, Wash., another correspondent of the marrying syndicate, sent a letter containing $20 to Chief of Police McMullen of San Diego for Mrs. Byrnes and in this way the investigation was started that led to the arrest of the two young women, who were doing a prosperous business.

Says Justice.

DRUNKS ABOUT AS MANY, BUT OF A NEW VARIETY.

FORTY-EIGHT men who were arrested Saturday night and Sunday for intoxication were punished yesterday by Police Judge Richardson with fines of $20 each or twenty days in the City Jail. The only exception that was made was the case of Gus Frey, a German, who admitted that he had never taken out naturalization papers. He stated to the court that he was "rearing" drunk when arrested. The judge gave him a sentence of $50 or fifty days and remarked that these are days when unnaturalized Germans should remain strictly sober.

Six of the men in court were arrested on cars coming from Vernon. Nearly all of the men under arrest admitted that they secured their liquor at Vernon. The six in question deposited bail and forfeited it rather than answer to a charge of using profanity and being under the influence of liquor.

There has been no great decrease in the number of arrests for intoxication since the Gandier ordinance went into effect, according to Justice Frederickson.

"I don't notice any marked decrease in the number of cases since the city went dry," he said. "Of course the Sunrise Court is a thing of the past and we now try every man arrested for imbibing too freely. That may make up for a slight decrease in the aggregate number of arrests for drunkenness.

"The most singular thing I have noticed since the dry law went into effect is that the habitual drunkards are not so numerous. I imagine they are too slow-footed to go as far as Vernon to secure liquor. The cases we have now involve younger men.

"A great many of the drunks we are meeting now are of a new kind. They appear to be crazy drunks, rather than the ordinary home-grown variety. It may be the result of drinking cheap wine in restaurants or drinking at Vernon. Then again it may be the result of a cheap brand of blind-pig spirits. The habitual drunkards can't afford to pay blind-pig prices, I suppose, and are consequently not so much in evidence in Police Court as they used to be."

PLAN TO OVERSUBSCRIBE OUR RED CROSS QUOTA.

Total After First Day is Estimated at One Hundred Thousand Dollars. Headquarters Crowded.

WITH the entire machinery thoroughly organized, and with a spirit of determination to make the week's record far exceed the quota of $750,000 apportioned to Los Angeles in the second Red Cross war-fund drive, the actual work of the big campaign began yesterday morning.

The "big-prospect" division, the industrial organization and the precinct division, representing a corps of nearly 9000 workers, each had its tasks well in hand early in the morning. At the campaign headquarters, No. 719 South Hill street, immediately after the opening hour, the stream of subscribers began to arrive. The line increased until the entire front counter was lined with assistants to wait upon the contributors, and all during the day the good work continued.

One of the features of the day at headquarters was the presentation to Chairman Harry M. Haldeman by Potentate William Bush of Al Malaikah Shrine of the check for $1211.81, representing the amount of money thrown upon the flag that was carried by the Shriners in the great parade last Saturday.

The Shriners were represented in this parade by the Al Malaikah Patrol, the Chanters and the Shrine Band, beside various other members of the Shrine maching behind these bodies. More than half a bushel of United States coin was thrown upon the flag as it was carried along the streets. The coins ranged all the way from pennies to dollars, and there was one $2.50 gold piece and one $5 paper bill.

HUNDRED THOUSAND.

No official figures were available last night on the results of the day's work, but various estimates were made, placing the figures at at least $100,000.

The first official figures will be announced at the noon luncheon at the Alexandria today, when the thirty teams of the Red Cross campaign organization will make their reports, and they will be summarized. More than 300 business men will give their time for the week to this campaign, and they will be present at the luncheon today. They will be addressed by Dr. Albert Shiels, City Superintendent of Schools.

Chairman Haldeman announced last evening that reports from this corps of workers showed that not a single man had met with a refusal from anyone to whom the subject of contributing to the Red Cross was presented.

There were many incidents developing during the day that showed the general interest in the present drive. One of these came from the County Farm. The chairman for that locality reported at headquarters that even the unfortunates, who make their home at this institution, are anxious to do all that they can to aid the Red Cross work and that two old men, Alfred Torter and A. E. Manley, had each subscribed two months' salary. These men work in the dairy and receive $2.50 a month.

J. A. H. Kerr, campaign manager, stated yesterday that the members of the Industrial Committee are making a systematic canvass of every industrial concern in the city, and everywhere they are accorded a welcome. Red Cross meetings are to be held every day in the various industrial plants, and it is believed that a large percentage of them will go on the 100-per-cent. subscribed lists. Honor rolls are to be posted in each concern, where every employee subscribed to the fund.

AT THE HARBOR.

One of the big features today will be the noon meeting for shipyard workers at the Harbor district. They will be addressed by J. Stitt Wilson, and they have already evinced much enthusiasm for the campaign, and are expected to go into the 100-per-cent. class.

Other meetings today will be:

Alhambra mass meeting, 12:30 o'clock, in charge of Judge Northrup, and with J. B. Coulston of Pasadena as the speaker.

Noon meeting at the Riverside Mission Inn, with Lieut. Kimmel as the speaker.

Noon mass meeting at Whittier, with W. D. Foote as speaker.

Evening mass meeting, at 8 o'clock, at the Baldwin Park schoolhouse, with H. W. Wright as speaker.

Boiler-makers' Union, Labor Temple, 9 p.m., with Dr. W. B. Thompson as speaker.

Unique Cloak and Suit Company, 9 a.m., with John D. Hart as speaker.

R. W. Pridham Company, 11:30 a.m., with Carlos S. Hardy as speaker.

EL CENTRO IS OVER THE TOP.

Oversubscribes Red Cross Quota in One Day—Arcadia in Six Hours.

The Times received the following telegram at 7 o'clock last evening:

EL CENTRO, May 20.

Editor Los Angeles Times:

El Centro at 6 o'clock this evening had oversubscribed its second Red Cross war fund drive quota by over $5600. All money in and cards checked. Drive conducted by volunteer fire department. Please wire the Kaiser to lie down and die.

[Signed]

J. F. SEYMOUR, JR.

Another telegram from Walter S. Reed, chairman for Imperial county, announced that the county as a whole also reached its quota on the first day.

Arcadia oversubscribed its quota of $1000 in six hours yesterday, raising $1032.05 by noon. The school children gave $130.80. Mexicans and Japanese are giving liberally.

Red Cross Pledge.

EVERY RED CENT GIVEN GOES INTO WAR RELIEF.

BY CHARLES E. VAN LOAN.

THE time to hit a snake is before it is old enough to crawl; the place to hit one is squarely on top of its flat head, and the time to nail a lie is when you hear the first faint whisper.

Unfortunately one very mean lie has passed the whispering stage and is now beginning to rumble in heavy undertones. The time will never come when this lie will lift its head and face the light. It isn't the sort of a lie that has the courage of its convictions. You couldn't find the man who started it—not with a search warrant. It has to do with the inner workings of the American Red Cross.

"The Red Cross is all right and their people are doing a great work, but"—here the rumbling begins—"how much of the money really goes over the top? Suppose you give a check for $100—how much of it is used in relief work?"

If you show a willingness to listen, you may be told that half of the money collected by the Red Cross in America is spent within the organization—paid out in salaries to workers. It may even be hinted that the pickings are very soft for certain people.

No meaner or more contemptible lie has ever sought a hearing. If you doubt it, try to find the man who says he knows that it is true. The devil himself would hardly stand sponsor for it. It is just "one of the things you hear on the street"—a fatherless, motherless slander repeated under the breath.

You may hear it in the course of the next few days. Here are some facts with which to down the lie to cover:

No part of your local contribution will be used to defray the expense of the present drive. Every nickel raised this week will go direct to Washington, the total fund to be administered by the War Council and approved by the President of the United States. Is that good enough for you?

Who pays the freight? The gentlemen who are passing the hat in our midst. The members of the local Red Cross Campaign Committee have pledged themselves to pay the expenses of the drive. Not only that, they have contributed $60,000 to the general fund.

This means that the man who asks you to do your part has already done his. It means that for one week these men have no businesses, no professions, no selfish interests, and for that space of time their bodies and brains belong to the American Red Cross. John D. Rockefeller might be able to foot the bill for such service as this; he might be able to buy a week out of the lives of these men and women—but the bill would surprise the old gentleman. The American Red Cross gets it all for nothing.

Don't you think it is time to nail this contemptible and insulting lie about the gigantic "expense" of a Red Cross drive?

One thing is certain: the argument will only be used by the sort of man who will do anything, say anything, rather than dip his hand into his pocket. Seeing that you have his measure in advance, you need not spare his feelings. A man with feelings would never slander the greatest and most genuine charity the world has ever seen.

Food Rules.

BAKERS' JURY TRIES BAKERS.

Acquittal Result of First Hearing in This City.

Second Defendant Ordered to Appear Again.

Recently Appointed Sugar Director in Office.

"Not guilty" was the verdict of the bakers' jury yesterday in the first trial of a Los Angeles baker accused of having violated the National Food Administration's rules governing the amount of wheat substitutes which must be used in baking bread. This is the first court of the kind ever held here and probably one of the first in the United States.

Twelve local bakers of good standing, members of the National Technical Service Commission, formed the panel of the jury, all having been chosen by Ralph P. Merritt, State Food Commissioner. From this list of twelve names, six were drawn from a hat to sit on the first case.

The chairman of the local branch of the National Technical Service Commission served in the capacity of prosecuting attorney, interrogating the defendants, while Frank H. Suffel, Southern California License Commissioner, and Harry Drangar, assistant food deputy, represented the Food Administration. By a rule of the Food Administration names of defendants may not be given unless convicted.

The first case of "Mr. A," one of the largest bakers in the city, was called after the six members of the jury had been selected.

"Mr. A." was charged with having baked on May 14 a loaf of bread that did not contain the proper amount of wheat flour substitutes.

DUE TO A MISTAKE.

"Mr. A." admitted the charge, but submitted to the court evidence that it was done through ignorance and not through any attempt to evade the Food Administration rules. He said that in computing the ratio to be used in making bread, his bakers had put four barrels of flour to one barrel of substitute. This amount makes the proportion 20 per cent. of substitutes instead of the required 25 per cent. To support his claim, he presented the affidavits which he had sent to Washington, as is required of all licensed bakers.

At the same time he stated that his firm is 98½ per cent. American, that he had subscribed $30,000 to the last Liberty Loan, his wife and daughter worked daily in the Needlework Guild and Red Cross shops and that two of his brothers are now serving in France.

After hearing the defense the jury retired and after ten minutes' deliberation returned and found "Mr. A." not guilty, with recommendation that he be dismissed with the understanding that he immediately become conversant with the rules governing the use of wheat flour.

The second case then was called.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA'S MADE WAR-BUYING ZONE.

New Government Order Cutting Out Long Hauls Means Much for Los Angeles Producers.

WORD yesterday was received by the Chamber of Commerce, through its Trade Extension Bureau, that Southern California has been designated by the War Department as a supply zone for the purchase of war commodities.

The new regulation marks what is considered by the Chamber of Commerce as a long forward step in the development of industry in this and in other Southern California cities. By the ruling, producers will have an opportunity to not only supply the government requirements within their own zone, but to dispose of their surplus through the local office of the Deputy Quartermaster.

The government's chief purpose in establishing a zone here, it is stated, is to conserve transportation and to minimize the cost of handling and rehandling goods. This cost, ultimately, had to be paid by the consumer, either the government or a private individual.

At present the Quartermaster's office here is in the market for 100,000 cases of pork and beans, in three-pound tins, and 75,000 cases of one-pound cans. This means that in excess of 325 carloads are to be furnished the government by this zone.

Under pre-war conditions government contracts were let only to individual concerns, and called for individual fulfillment and frequently long hauls. Under this ruling it was possible for the contracting concern to purchase the output of other companies at a specified figure and so gain a considerable profit. As only the larger firms could hope to fill a government order the smaller concerns were left more or less out in the cold.

ENDS MONOPOLY.

The new system absolutely does away with profiteering. All concerns can supply their limit to the government, provided the price is set at the lowest possible figure. Should any attempt be made at monopoly, and another zone furnishes lower quotations, the purchasing office will be at liberty to buy out of the tabulated zone, at the reduced prices.

That the requirements for Southern California are by no means to be confined strictly to agricultural products was the statement made yesterday by Carl McStay of the Trade Extension Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce. It applies to the many products which can be produced in this section, the only requisite being economy, he stated.

"This is the bean center of the country," said Mr. McStay. "We have claimed to the world that Southern California is able to produce more, of such commodities as are adapted to our soil, to the acre than any other community, and the government is now taking us at our own word. It remains to see what California will do, now that she has been called on.

"The old order of things is a thing of the past. Producers of this section will not be compelled to compete with those of another part of the country and be forced to seek their market away from home altogether. The local office is now empowered to buy for New York or for any point overseas any of the products for which there is a demand and which can most cheaply be bought here.

PROMPT PAYMENT.

"The move not only centralizes the buying, but expedites the paying, as payments can be made within ten days of the date of purchase. Also it will serve to replace with useful labor the nonessential industries that have been maintained, and which are being eliminated under the war programme.

"San Francisco heretofore has always gotten the lion's share of the large government purchases, but under the new regulation Los Angeles will be on an absolutely competitive basis. The establishment of a deputy quartermaster's office in Los Angeles was taken up by us in November, 1916."

There will be a meeting of all canners in a position to pack pork and beans in quantities for government purchase at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the Chamber of Commerce.

FIND DEAD WOMAN AFTER TWO WEEKS.

DOG'S WHINE REVEALS CASE OF SUICIDE ON RANCH NEAR INGLEWOOD.

The whine of a small dog yesterday attracted the attention of B. D. Malone, a rancher at Lennox, near Inglewood, to the house of May Adams, 35 years old, a neighbor.

Not having seen the woman about her premises for two weeks, he entered the house and found her body lying on the bathroom floor with a gas tube in her mouth. She had been dead more than a fortnight. Evidence pointed to the theory that she coolly went about her death by first attending to her toilet, combing her hair, etc.

She was last seen alive by neighbors on May 9. According to Malone, the woman was recently released from Patton, to which she was committed for the drug habit. She has a mother and aunt living at Maricopa. The funeral will be held today at Inglewood.

Last Ditch.

HOPE TO SAVE YOUNG BANDIT.

Defense Raises Question of Psychological Impulse.

Launch an Attack on Methods Used by Prosecution.

Interpose Demurrer in Case of Alleged Confederate.

The question of psychological effect has been invoked in behalf of Harold Denman, the young auto bandit, who was convicted of the murder, January 7, of Philip J. Metz, a grocer.

The imposition of the death sentence was fixed by Superior Judge G. W. Craig for yesterday, but the matter was postponed until tomorrow morning on motion of Earl Rogers, of counsel for the defense, on his showing that a number of affidavits are to be submitted in the case. Two of these instruments, signed by Mr. Rogers and Paul Schenck, were presented and Mr. Rogers made the statement that he would hand other affidavits to Deputy District Attorney Shelley before the case comes up to be disposed of finally.

The affidavit of Attorney Schenck charges that Deputy District Attorney Clark indulged in a bit of legal camouflage when he made the statement to the jury that if Denman was insane it was not necessary for the defense to hire three $10,000 lawyers to prove that issue, when it could have been done by a simple complaint of lunacy. It also was set out that Mrs. Cora B. Metz, widow of the dead man, indulged in much weeping, and that had a bad effect on the jury.

WAS DEMORALIZING.

Not only that, but it is charged that Mr. Clark waved in front of the jury the bloody garments and the gun alleged to have been used at the killing, and this was very demoralizing from the point of view of the defense. It was also alleged that the statement had been made by one of the members of the jury that the trial was a gruesome one in many respects and that he hoped that he would never be compelled to go through another such exhibition in a courtroom.

The affidavit of Mr. Rogers asserts that Mrs. Metz attempted to identify the clothing of her husband, worn at the time of the murder, when, as a matter of fact, she was in Oregon at the time, and could not have known what her husband had on when he was attacked by the bandit gang. Another defense is that Mrs. Emily L. Baruch, a member of the jury, was often seen talking with the widow, consoling her in her grief, and that was very demoralizing, and in addition Mrs. Baruch consented to appear in an interview printed in one of the newspapers of this city, and that contained statements derogatory to the Denman defense.

Young Denman, who was in court, still wore the look of bravado that he exhibited all during the trial. The boy looked over the courtroom to see if his mother was in the large audience, but she was not present.

TO CONSOLIDATE 'EM?

When Harold Spear, an alleged member of the juvenile gang of hold-ups composed of Denman, Charles Hadley and Richard Riley, who had been indicted by the county grand jury last week, on six counts, charging robbery of as many victims, and also participating in the murder of Metz, was arraigned, a demurrer to the indictment was interposed, and the matter went over until Friday, when the second trial of Spears on the charge of robbery will begin. Spears was tried on that allegation some time ago, and the jury disagreed. Deputy District Attorney Shelley stated that when the matter came up for trial again, Friday, he would move to consolidate the two indictments and try them together.

Richard Riley, who is charged also with the killing of Phillip Metz, will be tried before Judge Craig, beginning Thursday, and Charles Hadley, similarly charged, will be tried June 17.

Harry Von Schultz, the other petitioner, was born in Vilna, Russia, and wants the name of Harry Franklin Marshall. He says he is a loyal, patriotic American and is strongly opposed to the policies, principles and ideals of the government of Germany.

RAILROAD MEN AWAIT GOVERNMENT'S BUDGET.

LOCAL railroad officials expressed themselves yesterday as being completely in the dark as to how much of the government's allowances for betterments and equipment will be spent in Southern California. Under the expenditures approved by the National Railroad Administration, the Santa Fe is to be allowed to spend $41,465,000 for improvements during the present year; the Southern Pacific, $28,462,000, and the Salt Lake road, $1,870,000.

Announcement of this was made public in Washington Sunday night, but so far the local offices have received no notices and do not expect any for a long time, as the matter must first pass through the office of the regional director in Chicago and then the Pacific director in San Francisco, before the revised budgets reach the local offices. What items have been lopped off, and what have remained will not be known until these revised lists have been received in Los Angeles.

In general, the government approved of expenditures for new station buildings, new cars, locomotives, rails, etc., but disapproved of many extensions or building of new lines. All the roads sent in to the government their desires in the form of budgets, and these were approved to the amount of $927,961,218, of which the three roads running into Los Angeles receive $72,767,000.

According to an announcement at Omaha yesterday regarding government curtailment of transcontinental passenger train service, there will be only one fast train between Omaha and this coast. This train will be a consolidation of the Overland Limited, Los Angeles Limited and Oregon Limited trains. It will consist of one mail car, a buffet car, six sleepers and two diners. The observation car will be done away with. Connections will be made at Granger and Puget Sound points and at Ogden for Los Angeles. The California Mail and Colorado specials will be done away with entirely.

The changes are effective June 2.

FIRST OF FOOD TRIALS HEARD.

"Mr. B." was charged with the same offense as "Mr. A.," but instead of bringing affidavits of his purchases of wheat flour and substitutes and the amount of his sales, he tried to convince the jury verbally that he had not used a greater percentage of wheat flour than the law allows.

On cross-examination by the members of the jury and the chairman, "Mr. B." stated that his flour contained the following ingredients: Rice flour, barley flour, white and yellow cornmeal, Golden Glow, bran, potatoes and 75 per cent. of wheat flour. His plea did not impress the jury, and after a few minutes' deliberation, it was ordered that the case be continued until next Thursday afternoon. "Mr. B." was also ordered to bring his records of wheat flour and substitute purchases and his sales slips with him.

In case of conviction, the baker's name is presented to Louis M. Cole, City Food Administrator, who in turn will submit it with the evidence to Ralph P. Merritt, with a recommendation for punishment. This punishment may be either a fine, a closing of the man's business for a certain period, or both. In case of defendants being found guilty with no extenuating circumstances, names will be withheld until the punishment is inflicted.

Robert Wankowski, recently appointed Sugar Director for Los Angeles, took office yesterday. The I. N. Van Nuys estate has donated three additional rooms to the Food Administration in the Van Nuys Building, to take care of the additional business which the sugar registration and certificate plan entails. Hundreds of persons made application yesterday, and from morning until late in the evening the rooms were crowded with men and women making out the applications. Three clerks were added to the force to take care of the rush.

There were no changes in the Fair Price List yesterday.

VIRGINIA WOODS.

Engaged.

announcement made yes- the engagement of Ba- de Ropp of Los Angeles York, to Miss Margaret Montecito and Baltimore, portant romance of the Southern California came of Baltimore society as of New York will hear with equal interest.

Baron de Ropp is the youngest child of Baron and Baroness Alfred de Ropp of No. 240 West Adams street, while Miss Trimble, a beautiful girl of 18 years, is the only daughter of Mrs. Ridgeway Trimble of Wildwood Valley road, Montecito. She was educated in the East and possesses a rare charm of manner and many accomplishments. The young baron is 22 years old, and was educated at Hotchkiss School, in Connecticut, and at Yale, where he graduated last year. He and his older brother, Baron Alfred de Ropp, Jr., have charge of the chemistry department of their father's large plant, the American Trona Co., at the harbor.

This interesting bit of news was told by Mrs. Trimble at a beautifully appointed luncheon which she gave in honor of the young couple on Sunday.

It was only last month that Baron de Ropp's daughter, Baroness Vera de Ropp, became the bride of Maj. Eric Fisher Wood of New York. The baroness and Maj. Wood had known each other five years, so when she and her father went to New York on a visit it was but a few days until the baroness's mother here was notified of the engagement and announced it in The Times. A few days later the marriage took place. Maj. Wood is attached to the staff of Gen. Glenn, in command of the division at Fort Sherman.

To Honor French Commission.

Five Allied nations were represented at the reception given Sunday evening by Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Brunswig in honor of William Sandoz, Mme. M. Lantes and Mlle. Camille de Borde des Forest of the French Commission, here in behalf of the invalid soldiers, No. 2, of France. Among these were the members of the commission, Baron and Baroness Alfred de Ropp, Prince and Princess Paul Troubetskoy, Edouard Deru, formerly court musician to the King of Belgium, and Mme. Deru; Capt. Henri Gagnereau of the French army, now an instructor in machine gun practice at Camp Kearny; Rev. Father Paul Datin, George Chartier, Capt. Rigby of the British army, Dr. and Mrs. A. S. Lobingier and Miss Gladys Lobingier, Mr. and Mrs. E. Avery McCarthy, Mr. and Mrs. George E. Fusenot, Lyman T. McFie, Mrs. Samuel Brown Thomas, Miss Jeanne Redman, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gardner Bullis, Willard Huntington Wright, Mrs. Isaac Milbank and Mrs. Alex Field (Mrs. Brunswig's daughter,) who arrived on Saturday for a month's stay.

The drawing-room, library, reception hall and dining-room were adorned with masses of Cecile Brunner roses cut from the Brunswig gardens, while fires burning in open grates added cheer to the evening's pleasure. Toward the middle of the evening Mr. Deru played several charming violin numbers, Mrs. Deru accompanying him on the piano, and at midnight Baroness de Ropp and Mrs. Fusenot poured tea and coffee. Mr. and Mrs. Deru will appear in recital on Friday afternoon at Mrs. Dean Mason's residence, when half of the proceeds are to go to the Belgian relief fund. Mr. Sandoz, Mme. Lantes and Mlle. des Forest are to appear at a soiree at the Alexandria tomorrow evening.

Baer-Davis Invitations.

Invitations are out for the wedding of Miss Mildred Baer, the only daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John Willis Baer of Pasadena, to Ensign Richard David Davis, Jr., of the United States Naval Reserve force. Ensign Davis is the older son of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Davis of California street, Pasadena. The wedding ceremony will take place in the Pasadena Presbyterian Church at 3 o'clock p.m., May 31. The officiating clergymen will be Dr. John Gilbert Blue of the Pasadena Presbyterian Church and the Rev. George Davidson of St. John's Episcopal Church, Los Angeles. Miss Lubelle Boice will be maid of honor, and the bridesmaids will be Miss Georgiana Drummond, Miss Barbara Scoville, Miss Averice Allen and Miss Christine Wetherby, all of Pasadena. Little Miss Dorothy Davis, a sister of the groom, will be flower girl. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wisdom entertained at dinner at their home "Overlook," No. 1303 Lilac Terrace, having as honor guest, Mrs. Wisdom's sister, Dr. V. M. Goodwin of Base Hospital No. 35 at Camp Kearny, who was here and in Fullerton for the week end. A service flag in flowers was the center piece and small flags were used as favors, while a huge silk flag was unfurled above the table from the ceiling to the music of America. During the evening little Imogene Marshall gave several interpretative dances. Covers marked places for Dr. Wisdom, Mrs. S. E. Hull, J. E. Hull and Alvin Hull, of Venice, Miss Bell Craven, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Marshal, Miss Imogene Marshall and the hosts.

MOROSCO HERE SOON.

MAKES PLANS FOR SUMMER PRODUCTION OF PLAYS.

By Grace Kingsley.

It is now definitely decided that Oliver Morosco, producer and manager, who, having for several seasons successfully bucked the theatrical producing game in New York, may now be classed as one of the biggest ones himself, will return to this city the middle of June.

Even now he is setting his western machine for the production of new plays into motion, and today at the Morosco Theater there will be commenced the rehearsal of Jack Lait's "One of Us," with Mr. Lait himself present. At the same time will appear several new faces among the Morosco company. One of these will be George Preston, well-known New York leading man, who is to succeed Harland Tucker as juvenile lead, and who brings West with him a budget of favorite notices as long as a Shakesperean commentary. He will have a leading role in "One of Us." Another new member of the company will be Harry Mestayer, who has been winning favorable comment from all the New York critics in a new play; while still another newcomer will be Frances Slauson, who has a big part in "One of Us," and, who in private life is Mrs. Franklyn Underwood, wife of Mr. Morosco's eastern manager.

When "The Fear" reaches the Mason here, it is rumored that Eddie Lowe may not go on with that play, but may be retained here to create the leading male role in another new play which Mr. Morosco will produce. Mr. Lowe, whose home is in the West, and who got his real start here as leading man at the Burbank, has, since his departure with the Maude Fulton play, become a real Broadway star—wears spats, carries a cane, and everything!

"One of Us" deals in part with cabaret life, which is said to be treated from a new and striking angle. Bertha Mann will play the leading feminine part, and Richard Dix will have one of the principal masculine roles.

Immediately following "One of Us," Mr. Morosco announces he will produce the Hattons new play, "The Walk-Offs," and another one called "Personality." It is likewise rumored that negotiations are under way for the production of a new play by Bayard Veillier, with Fred Niblo in the leading part.

Soft for Sammy.

Any soldier or sailor of Uncle Sammy's who chances to find himself lonely today may cease being so if he chooses at 3 o'clock today. All he needs to do will be to call at the Mason, where tea will be poured for him under the auspices of the Stage Women's War Relief by the fair hands of members of "The Wanderer" and Morosco companies, the owners of which hands, to be more explicit, include no less charming persons than Nance O'Neil, Florence Reed, Bertha Mann, Marion Vye Tyce, Dora Mae Howe, Lillian Elliott and others. Besides which there will be a jazz band and an entertainment in which the abovementioned ladies will take part.

Orpheum.

The Orpheum bill this week measures up several hundred feet above those of the last three or four weeks.

Marion Morgan and her bevy of lovely girls in the historical Roman ballet, with its three episodes, Teturn after a year's absence. The colorful act is a gem of its sort, unique and absorbing, depicting first the return of the victorious youth from the Greek games, followed by dances based on the games themselves in which a score of girls take part, and the final dramatic episode in which the Greek youth, peeping into the Vestals' temple, and, being carried away with their beauty, is struck dead by a thunderbolt. While there is tremendous appeal to the senses in the rhythm, color, motion and atmospheric beauty of the offering, a subsidiary but powerful appeal is that to the intellect, the act being original in conception and embodying a clean-cut idea as well as the finest of artistic ideals.

Those ever-welcome entertainers, Percy Bronson and Winnie Baldwin, who have been winning big honors in the East in musical comedy, are with us once more in a singing and dancing act similar to that of a couple of seasons ago, except that besides a general indefinable improvement of method in their work, Mr. Bronson has a new song descanting on the experiences of that arch adventurer, "Robinson Crusoe," and Miss Baldwin gives us a new version of a Hawaiian maiden. They scored heavily yesterday.

As jokers, Francis Yates and Gus Reed turn out to be very good singers, their duet numbers being especially good. One has a deep-sea-going voice with which he makes a great hit in the "Drinking Song."

We're very warlike in the two-a-day, these days, a bill without its war play just wouldn't seem like vaudeville. "Exemption," a sprightly little sketch by Samuel Shipman and Clara Lipman, fills the war niche this week, with Edward Finley and Harry Frazer featured. Frazer makes a big hit as the little Irish youth who gets the big fellow's none too carefully tethered Angora.

Right in a class by themselves when it comes to comic eccentric dancing are Tom Dingle and Sam Ward, their talk not being so good, however. Gwen Lewis is a wholesome and pretty girl with a nice voice, who mugs a bit too much to please me, but who puts over her English songs, accompanying herself on the piano, in very good shape, her Coster war song getting her the most.

By all means don't quit the show before Tarzan, the remarkable chimpanzee, comes on filling the closing spot. His kidding with the drummer is alone worth the price of admission. Leona La Mar remains over.

Tally's Broadway.

If, as Amelie Rives has said, "most of the trouble in this world arises from beds," Clara Kimball Young's photoplays must be very true to life, indeed, as they are nearly always just full of trouble and beds.

Talking of the "stings of outrageous fate," Miss Young is appearing this week at Tally's Broadway in a picture from a story by Elinor Glyn, which fairly puts the "b" in boudoir! It is entitled "The Reason Why." In this story, as always, Miss Young does fine emotional work, appearing first as the maltreated wife of a Russian, later as a wife "bought and paid for" by an English lord, admirably played by Milton Sills, who interprets his role with finesse and the sort of mental quality which puts over his attitude of mind toward the girl he has married no matter what his outer manners may indicate.

The story is an intriguing one, as Elinor Glyn's stories are apt to be, even if we do feel that the young woman in this case who had a fine musical education might have discovered an alternative against "selling herself" by giving music lessons at 50 cents an hour.

There are gorgeous settings, and there is lavish gowning on the part of Miss Young, as usual. And by the by, speaking of dramatic art, Miss Young exemplifies the fact that evening dresses are being worn long, and with trails, this year.

"The Reason Why" is bound to be the reason why a lot of people will go to Tally's this week. An Educational film—something new in travelogues—completes the programme.

Miller's.

Today's feature of the William Farnum Revue, the novelty stunt which is being staged at Miller's this week, is "The Price of Silence," one of the few features starring this great actor, in which he appears without the old "blue shirt" of his out-of-door roles. But the story is one that will have a wide appeal to young and old, for it is brimful of situations with real heart appeal and it gives Farnum's splendid emotional talents full sway. He is surrounded by unusually clever actors, including Charles Clary, Frank Clark, Ray Hanford, Vivian Rich, Gordon Griffith and Brooklyn Kellar.

Tomorrow's feature of the revue is the magnificent picturization of Charles Dicken's story, "A Tale of Two Cities," in which Farnum plays both Sidney Carton and Charles Darnay.

REVIEWS.

Variety.

VAUDEVILLE AND FILMS.

THE WEEK'S ATTRACTIONS IN THIS HOUSE AND THAT.

Pantages.

And now comes a play based upon the war that is all comedy. This may sound rather strange, but if you doubt it go to Pantages this week and see "Wedding Shells," the musical comedy that heads the current bill. It was written by James Horan, the well-known playwright, and the action takes place behind the Belgian firing line. A cast of eleven people—mostly girls—present the act in a most admirable way. Frank Morrell, a the California Boy, is back again this week with a new line of chatter, and a bunch of lively songs. Grew Pates and Company have something "different" in their sketch called "Solitaire." It is a comedy drama based upon the first quarrel of a newly-married couple, Early and Laight, in "On the Water Wagon," remind Angelenos of what they should do, now that King Alcohol is a thing of the past. Three Musical Maids hold the audience with their selection of songs and instrumentations. George Degnon and J. Burt Clifton furnish thrills and surprises in their original athletic sketch, "Taking Things Easy." "Tables Turned," a western melodrama starring William S. Hart, is the added film attraction of the week.

Burbank.

The Borzaga Trio, high-class instrumentalists, head the current week's Burbank vaudeville bill that fairly sparkles with music, mirth and melody. A diversified programme is offered by the Borzaga Trio, together with Gay and Gilrose in "The Future Woman," Bob and Peggy Valentine in a singing and dancing oddity called "Vital Statistics," and Thelma Crocker, juvenile dancer, whil Francis X. Bushman and Beverly Bayne are in charge of the motion picture end of the bill in "With Neatness and Dispatch," a screen version of the recent popular story.

The Burbank will close for one week, beginning Monday, May 27, for alterations and renovation. It will also be entirely redecorated and equipped with the latest accessories, after which it will reopen under a new policy, the nature of which S. Morton Cohn, managing director, has promised to announce at an early date.

Hippodrome.

The Hippodrome is doing all it promised in the amusement line this week. They said they would make you laugh and they will do it. The programme opens with the Japanese foot juggler, Toki Murato, and if his antics with his clever feet do not make you laugh they will at least amuse you. A man billing himself as Trister paints vivid pictures for you and uses as his materials plain, common, everyday rags. The result is startling. The Gypsy Dancing Trio have made a specialty of not only their native dances, but the energetic Russian steps. Frank Berry and Ed Nickerson play every variety of musical instrument and are good at them all. Attractive girls, with and without a superfluity of costuming, are the Campus Girls. Then a colored dancer shows you some steps. The Two McCarvers romp through their skit. Acrobats of the best sort and comedians who know fun when they see it are Scamp and Scamp. An additional act this week is the naval presentation given in the interests of the United States naval force. This consists of films and a short lecture by naval men who are working to enlist men in the United States Naval Reserve.

Garrick.

"Redemption," the story of a crucified soul, with Evelyn Nesbit Thaw and her son Russell as the stars, is this week's offering at Caulfield's Garrick. The play carries a strong appeal, with its high lights of motherly love and tender pathos, while comedy situations to relieve the tension have been interspersed with the dramatic climaxes.

Mrs. Thaw's characterization of the friendless mother, determined to win her fight against odds, proves her to be the possessor of unusual histrionic ability. Charmingly natural in her lighter moments, she is strong and sure in the emotional scenes.

Palace.

William S. Hart has deserted his beloved deserts, plains and horses in his latest picture, "Blue Blazes Rawden," which is this week's attraction at the Palace, for the snow and freezing weather of the north. But he made a good move when he did it, for "Blue Blazes Rawden" affords his many admirers a change in characterizations, and at the same time proves that the western star is capable of handling a dramatic role of any sort, whether the means of conveyance be automobiles, sleds or horses. Hart has the title role—that of a lumberjack who has lived all his life in the great woods, and whose existence is a compound of hard work and fierce fighting. Added attractions on this week's bill are "A Desperate Scoundrel," a Keystone comedy starring Ford Sterling, and the Christie fun frolic, "Their Breezy Affair."

SEMI-ANNUAL RALLY.

Women's Auxiliary to Maccabees to Meet Tomorrow, Wednesday, in Patriotic Sessions.

The Women's Benefit Association of the Maccabees will hold its semi-annual rally tomorrow and Wednesday in the Walker Theater Building. All of the Southern California reviews will be represented at this meeting.

Minnie W. Aydelotte, great commander of this association, who lives in Oakland and has charge of the three States on the Coast, British Columbia and Nevada, will be present at the rally.

This women's organization bought $200,000 worth of Liberty Bonds out of their own treasuries, the Los Angeles review buying a $1000 bond. In this city they have spent $2000 for yarn in order that they may knit sweaters and socks for the soldiers "over there."

SHE GETS DECREE.

John C. Ashton found a wife and seven children too much of a job and left home, it appeared in the divorce suit of Mrs. Edith M. Ashton tried by Judge York yesterday. Mrs. Ashton took up the job where her husband had thrown it down, and by driving a jitney in Sawtelle, she managed to keep her home together. She was granted a decree.

MOTION PICTURES AS GRAPHIC AS LIFE ITSELF.

BY ANTONY ANDERSON.

THE war is so big that it makes big events out of every phase of life. The little things—little minds, little people—are no longer permitted to survive. Life, life glorious and abundant, springs up in every country where the shrouded form of death is stalking.

Even motion pictures, youngest of the arts, and up to a few years ago the most frivolous, have turned toward seriousness and a genuine attempt at a criticism of life. They are no longer the mere amusement of the many, but the necessity of all, for their appeal has become the universal in its breadth and scope.

There is purpose in many of the motion pictures of today, and that purpose is nothing less than a vivid and living interpretation of the tremendous cataclysm that is rocking the world. We had "Hearts of the World," we had "The Beast of Berlin," with numerous minor photoplays of similar import, and now we have, at Clune's Auditorium, Ambassador James W. Gerard's picturization of "My Four Years in Germany," one of the most marvelous of them all—the peer, indeed, of the almost peerless "Hearts of the World"—though, of course, it is not a motion-picture play in the usual sense.

William Nigh directed "My Four Years in Germany." I take off my hat to William Nigh. He is a man of genius. His work in the production of the pictures and in the choice of actors to portray famous —and infamous—men living today is like astonishing magic. Looking at them, we are almost forced to exclaim: "How did he do it—how did he get the ridiculous Kaiser and all his ridiculous retinue—the unspeakable Crown Prince, Von Hindenburg, Von Jagow, Von Tirpitz, Von Falkenhayn, Zimmerman—how did he get them to pose for the pictures, to strut through their various roles in the farce?"

Of course, he didn't get them, but he found men so like them that they look like peas in the same pod. The man who can do that, with such an unerring instinct for outward resemblances, and can then compel his actors to play in character, is unique in genius. That William Nigh is also an actor himself, and a superbly good one, is evidenced by his work in the role of the idealist Socialist who was so terribly misled to his own doom. I regretted that I went to yesterday's matinee performance of "My Four Years in Germany." I should have been at Clune's Auditorium in the evening, when the house was packed, so that I might have let myself go with the crowd—to hiss, to execrate, to shout, to huzza, with all my loyal Americans. As it is, I did start to jump to my feet and wave my arms several times, the tingle of Americanism grew so strong within me as I watched the unfoldment of German duplicity, intrigue, cruelty, and above all, German childish—or perhaps idiotic?—credulity.

The fatuous stupidity of the Kaiser and all the Kaiser's men is beyond belief. Belgium would submit! England would not interfere! America would never fight! The world is our oyster! It is to laugh—and, believe me, the audience who watched the amazing antics of the autocrats at Berlin laughed long and loud, as if they had been at a circus that boasted a dozen clowns. In truth, it was a circus for every humorous American, because the dozen German clowns in the big ring hadn't an ounce of humor between 'em.

It is whispered that Mr. Gerard himself played in a few scenes. Halbert Brown must be his double, for we can't tell, for the life of us, where Gerard ends and Brown begins. We commiserate Earl Schenck for looking so much like the Crown Prince, but we congratulate him for playing that unspeakable princeling with such consummate artistic intelligence. And so it runs through the whole list of supermen "made in Germany"—save the mark as a souvenir, but don't use it—they are imitated by the actors so cleverly that they seem genuine articles, though German.

"My Four Years in Germany" is the motion picture of the hour, of the century. It is momentous history, with almost the power and grip of life itself. It will be treasured in our archives. It will mold millions of Americans into heroic stature, Americans with indomitable courage, and with a passionate love for truth and justice.

One fault only do I find with this great motion picture. The last bloody scenes, in which an American youth kills six Huns because he had "promised dad he would do it" are unnecessary; they detract from the fine dignity of this superb film production. They jile quite outside the picture, and they suggest that we, too, are mad for blood. They cry revenge. "Vengeance is mine, saith the Lord."

MUST HAVE BEAN.

Don't know exactly whether it is scandal or efficiency, but they do say that they are working off a lot of navy beans on the army.

BY A HAIR.

In the old days of the "legitimate" it didn't make much difference whether an actress had any hair or not, but in these times if a movie star loses her tresses she suffers more seriously than if she had merely dropped her reputation. It must be difficult to make a wig with kinky curls.

THE BUSHWHACKERS.

At the Chicago trial of the 112 alleged dynamiters and cutthroats documents have been introduced proving that the members of the American Bolsheviki had planned to start war against this government when war was declared against Germany. In fact the I.W.W. is an eternal enemy of any and every form of government. All that those fellows want is to "be ag'in somebody." At heart they are always at war with law and order and right and are forever waiting an opportunity to bite the hand that feeds them.

POLITENESS IN POLITICS.

The war has had one good effect. It has ameliorated the acerbities of political discussion. Hysterics and lurid rhetoric have been exiled from the rostrum. It is now conceded that a man is not an ignorant imbecile because the eccentric tendencies of his brain impel him with a Democrat. Neither is he a vampire with a cruel and unappeasable appetite for the life blood of labor because he has the wisdom to be a Republican. The Progressive is not a wild-eyed, long-whiskered, hay-seeded reincarnation of Capt. Kidd. And a Socialist is not an utter and incurable ass—appearances to the contrary notwithstanding.

PATRIOTIC CANADA.

The Dominion of Canada has a population of 8,075,000 (one thirteenth that of the United States.) Her fiscal expenditures for the current year will be about one billion dollars, nearly one-half of which will go toward war expenditures. A similar expenditure by the United States would call for thirteen billions of dollars a year. And we may come to it!

The Canadians justify this enormous tax upon their resources. They say that "the future of Canada, as well as the fate of civilization and democratic institutions, will depend upon the result of this war, and no price is too high to pay for victory." Canadians, we are with you!

THEY NEED NO SYMPATHY.

Imperial Valley is again to the front with the first barley and the first cantaloupes of the season. Consignments of these products to Los Angeles are earlier by at least two months than the shipments of the same products from any other State in the Union. Waste no sympathy on the residents of "that hot Imperial Valley." Ranchers in that section often earn enough money by midsummer to come to Los Angeles and cool off until fall—and many of them are so accustomed to the warm weather that they decide to wait until the following summer to take their vacation and, instead of spending their money on travel and hotel bills, invest part of their savings in Liberty Bonds and sit back and read the Los Angeles Times.

MARCHING ON.

The heart of humanity is very good. In spite of all the misunderstanding, yes, and the hatred in the world today, there is going on a spiritual development which is none the less real because it may not be seen with eyes of flesh. The race is seeking better things and will get them, "even if it has to fight for them." Americans, especially, are warming up to their duty along every line. Witness the brave, self-sacrificing work of the churches and schools. Consider the oversubscriptions to the Liberty Loans. Watch how Uncle Sam raises that $100,000,000 for the Red Cross. In years to come the name of Florence Nightingale will be a bright star in the book of history when the names of Hindenburg and Ludendorf and the Kaiser will be used only to form a black background to emphasize that star's blessed light.

GUILTY AS CHARGED.

German Junkers may confine Prince Lichnowsky in an asylum for lunatics, but they cannot mislead even their own people concerning the verity of the disclosures of the Prince's memoirs. His words, "Thus ended my London mission, wrecked not by the perfidy of the British, but by that of our own policy," reveal the true authors of the present war. Prince Lichnowsky was German Ambassador to Great Britain at the time war was declared. He learned later that he had been made the victim of the intrigue of his own country; that while he was honestly striving to preserve peace in Europe his government had other agents in London whose sole duty was to see that all the Prince's pacific plans miscarried. Little wonder that a government guilty of such perfidy did not hesitate to violate treaties and invade neutral countries. It had already touched the nadir of degradation.

CITIZEN WILSON'S TALK.

Perhaps the most striking thing in President Wilson's plea in New York Saturday night for the Red Cross is the human touch, the simplicity, the submersion of self in the multitude that did not appear in the President's earlier addresses. He was no longer the prophet of democracy emerging from the wilderness with a message for a waiting world, but one who, becoming President, had not ceased to be a citizen. For the first time since he assumed office the President related homely anecdotes to enliven his discourse. There was a harking back to Lincolnian simplicity which the American people will eagerly welcome. He did not regard his own administration as the holy of holies, but was inclined to poke fun at the formality and red tape of the War Department. Consider the following:

> I heard a story told the other day that is ridiculous, but it is worth repeating because it contains a germ of truth. An Indian was enlisted in the army. He returned to the reservation on furlough. He was asked what he thought of it. He said: "No much good. Too much salute. Not enough shoot."

Plainly the President is acquiring the common touch. Simplicity is a characteristic of true greatness, and it is reassuring to note that the further the President proceeds the more he begins to resemble the Great Emancipator in some respects. His thoughts are taking the forms of expression of the common people. He no longer uses classic verbiage to adorn democratic sentiment. He is selecting big men to do big things without reference to their party affiliations. He is impressing on the American people that talking for democracy does not relieve one of the obligation of fighting for it.

The President said frankly that he sees no present prospect of peace; that a democratic peace cannot be secured until autocracy is unhorsed. "We are not to be diverted from the grim purpose of winning the war," he asserted, "by any insincere approaches upon the subject of peace." In this part of his address the President spoke as though new proposals for a negotiated peace had been advanced lately by the Central Powers. "Every proposal with regard to accommodation in the west involves a reservation with regard to the east. Now, as far as I am concerned, I intend to stand by Russia as well as France. The helpless and friendless are the very ones that need friends and succor, and if the men of Germany think we are going to sacrifice anybody for our own sake, I tell them they are mistaken." Again he said, "I can say with a clear heart I have tested those intimations and have found them insincere."

In his appeal for Red Cross subscriptions the President eloquently said: "Friendship is the only cement that will ever hold the world together. The duty that faces us all now is to serve one another, and no man can afford to make a fortune out of this war." He added that one of the deepest stains upon the German army was its flagrant violations of the Red Cross. "They have not respected the instrumentality which they themselves participated in the setting up as the thing which no man was to touch because it was the expression of common humanity."

His concluding appeal went to the heart of the people, as well as to the heart of his subject: "I summon you in this next week to say how much and how sincerely and how unanimously you sustain the heart of the world." That is the test which Red Cross week imposes. The Times trusts that no citizen of Southern California will fail to qualify.

THE LADY AND THE LAND.

The women who have taken the place of men in doing the work on the farms and gardens of England are reported as now getting better average results than when their husky companions were on the job. Of course this may in a sense be due to the general speeding up because of the war, but in any event there is no slump in the output because women and not men are doing the work. Farm and ranch labor is usually considered as long, hard and wearisome, but much of this impression is unnecessary and is not warranted by the facts. In reality there is mighty little agricultural work that cannot be performed by an able-bodied woman, and the tasks themselves are of the sort that make the bodies able. Really the farmer had a more healthful and attractive job than the farmer's wife. Plowing in the open field may be wearisome, but is less trying than hanging over a hot stove in a day of baking operations.

The land army of American women will be able to take care of the nation's crops when it comes to a showdown. Women take to the work of farm and garden with refreshing ease. The bosom of Dame Nature withholds from them few secrets, and they are not slaves to age-old methods. At this moment we have in mind one capable woman who last year took off from an acre of ground over $100 more of crop revenue than two experienced male gardeners had ever garnered before from the same patch. And she took on a lovely complexion and a scandalous appetite in the doing. Of course she is not exactly a lily-white parlor pet, but she has a rich and healthful glow and she can lick Jess Willard.

Let the women do the work by all means—if results are desired.

CROOKED STICKS.

One article, hitherto valueless, which has been made valuable by the war is crooked timbers. For the first time in the history of the lumber business the stump and roots of a fir or an oak tree are made a marketable product. They are grubbed out by hand. No machine has been invented for taking the place of the grubbing hoe, shovel and ax in this activity.

The timbers used are bent in the middle so as to form a near right angle, the two sides of which are about four feet long and two or more feet through. They are ship knees. In shaping them the ax and adze are used. It is a laborious process, but the native strength of the timbers must not be impaired. So they are fashioned by hand, with the result that $25 and upward is paid for each ship knee, and an army of several hundred men is employed at Yamhill in Oregon in the industry. Small sawmills in the neighborhood are cutting ties and, while the trunk of a tree goes to the mill, the crooked and otherwise unusable root and stump go to the builder of wooden ships.

A Spring Drive.

NAPOLEON AND THE WORLD WAR.

The world is generally agreed that Napoleon was the greatest of all military geniuses and that the principles of warfare which he laid down and adhered to were the profoundest and most efficacious which any general has conceived. They were, in fact, more than principles; they were fundamental truths; and no victories of permanent and far-reaching importance have been won save through following them, for they were based on the eternal laws of practical conduct.

The German war lords are said to have studied Napoleon and to have endeavored to profit by his teachings; but the more closely one follows the German methods of waging war, the more one realizes that they have failed to grasp the essential point of Napoleon's doctrine. The reason is found in the totally different types of intelligence represented by the plastic and fluid Latin temperament and the static, meticulous Teutonic temperament. The latter is, in its very nature, incapable of operating along mobile and rhythmic lines in accord with the Napoleonic procedure. And in this fact lies one of our greatest hopes of eventually overcoming the German war machine.

How far the German generals have failed in understanding and abiding by Napoleon's principles of fighting can best be gauged by setting down in Napoleon's own language his military conclusions, and then seeing how completely at variance with these conclusions are the methods pursued by the German commanders.

The cardinal Napoleonic doctrine is summed up in his own words: "Je m'engage partout; et puis je vois;" meaning broadly, "I engage myself all along the line and then act in accordance with what happens." Again he says: "Unhappy the general who comes upon the field of battle with a system." Then the corollary to this: "It is imagination which loses battles." Still again: "In war, theory is all right so far as general principles are concerned; but in reducing general principles to practice there will always be danger." Along the same line he states: "The issue of a battle is the result of an instant, of a thought;" and: "The art of war on land is an art of genius and of inspiration, not of premeditation."

In these few quotations, which represent the basic Napoleonic ideal of waging war, we have a direct contradiction of the German ideal. The point which Napoleon constantly insisted upon was that all battles should be fought without predetermination—namely, that every instant brings a new necessity, and that decisions therefore should be in a constant state of flux. And preconceived system or plan of operation was to him the one unpardonable fault of generalship; and it is a notorious fact that he never minutely outlined a campaign of battle or fought on a schedule. His greatest victories were the result of momentary inspiration, of constant altering and changing to meet the exigencies of the moment.

The German plan of warfare is diametrically opposed to this principle. Not only is every detail of a battle prearranged and mapped out, but every phase of it is actually rehearsed beforehand. No leeway is allowed for contingencies, for unforeseen events; and when one detail goes wrong the whole scheme is thrown out of gear. We have already seen how fatal this has been to German calculation; and we shall have more evidence of it in the future.

But not only in this fundamental regard are the Germans at variance with the Napoleonic standards. Regard how well the following criticism applies to the purely-mentalized Prussian officer: "A military man must have character as well as brains. Men who have brains, but little character, have no business in the profession of arms." Again Napoleon says: "Policy and morals concur in repressing pillage." And the truth of this is nowhere better demonstrated than in the reaction which followed the wanton pillaging of Belgium. Also, in view of the numerous German attacks on neutrals, the bombing of unprotected towns, the shelling of hospitals and other similar atrocities, the following comment "reveals how little the Teutonic mind has heeded Napoleon's words: "To violate military agreement is to renounce civilization; it is to put one's self on the level of the Bedouin of the desert."

One might go on indefinitely showing how far removed from the Napoleonic doctrines are the Germanic doctrines in the present war; and these comparisons surely point to Germany's ultimate defeat.

PRESERVE AMERICAN STANDARD.

Man is as much a fruit of culture as an apple or an orange. The uses of adversity are not sweet—Shakespeare to the contrary notwithstanding. "Ye cannot gather grapes of thorns or figs of thistles." The poszession of a competency accumulated by industry and economy brings to the average man a mental and moral as well as a material gain. The American workman is a more intelligent and desirable citizen than his European brother, not merely because the Declaration of Independence is the charter and the animating spirit of his government in city, State and nation, but because he is better fed, better housed, better clothed and better educated. He lives a better life because he earns higher wages, and he earns higher wages because of the policy of protection to home industry which the Democrats modified but did not destroy the year after the war and which they have not since molested.

It is idle to claim that all the profits derived from the high prices for manufactured goods are seized and appropriated by the manufacturers. The market reports are perused almost as closely in the cottages as in the counting-rooms. The bright brains of the workers are quick to perceive and their voices urgent to demand for labor its full share of results. If the market reports of the country show at any time an increase of 10 per cent. in the price of iron goods it will not be many days before all the Tubal Cains between the Schuylkill and the Golden Gate will demand a corresponding increase in wages.

It is the homes of America rather than the counting-rooms that are interested in maintaining a protective tariff. And what other land can boast of such homes. The poets who have sung songs that will echo down the ages; the artists who have illumined canvas with pictures of nature; the inventors who have mastered her secrets and conquered her forces; the engineers who have linked oceans and spanned rivers; the soldiers who have marshalled armies to victory, and the statesmen who have ruled States and nation have come from the farms and the workshops and the public schools. Whittier out of a farm house. Ericsson out of a machine shop. Edison out of a telegraph office. Grant out of a tanyard. Lincoln out of a log cabin.

Over all this broad land are millions of cottage households where bright-brained children are growing into the men and women of the future who, when the present generation shall have journeyed on, will keep the standards of this nation "still full high advanced" and maintain our country in her foremost place among the nations of the earth.

God bless and keep and carry to victory on the fields of France the men who are there fighting for the safety of American homes and the maintenance of freedom over all the earth! God send blight and confusion and disaster and defeat upon the Huns and their leader who would clip the wings of our eagle and send him to nest among the bats and owls of the land that crouches under the accursed Hohenzollern rule!

"TAY PAY" IN AMERICA

New Impressions of a Great Nation.

BY T. P. O'CONNOR.

LONDON, May 8.—This must primarily be the story of a mission by an individual; but side by side with that story there will be a study of a nation going through the experiences of war-time. The stories fit into each other; sometimes crossing, sometimes interrupting, sometimes explaining each other. Let me, however, anticipate everything that follows by giving the conclusion of my story even before I have started on its beginning. The America of today, as compared with the America I saw in June of last year, is a different America; almost a new America. I have no doubt whatever as to the inflexible determination of Great Britain or of France or of Italy; but if comparisons were permissible I would say that the country of whose iron determination to see this thing through I have the least doubt is America.

My colleagues had represented to me that it was absolutely essential to the continuance of the Irish party, to the preservation of the home-rule cause and to saving Ireland from destruction that I should undertake a mission to America. Somebody had to go, and I was the one to go. I pass over the misgivings which naturally would come to a man approaching his seventieth year to undertake a journey with some peril, with many more difficulties and unpleasantness, with a great deal of labor, and with an uncertain result. But I know there was no choice for me, and I assented.

I had not been more than a few hours in New York when I realized that, for the moment, the masses of my race in New York, if not all over the country, were against my party and myself, not merely vehemently, but fiercely, with something indeed like frenzy, and that the hostility was accompanied also by a certain personal bitterness against myself as the embodiment of all the traditions, policies and methods which they at that moment most violently disapproved.

I realized at once—I had dimly realized it even before I left London—that the old methods by which I had replenished the funds of our party were now impossible. Formerly my course had been simple, easy—almost pleasant—as much as continuous travel in another land of long distances and on a begging mission—can ever be pleasant. I spoke first to large and unanimous meetings in New York; then I went on the short journey of two hours to Philadelphia, where there was an even larger, more enthusiastic and more generous audience; thence it was easy to go to Boston to find the same experience, and so by visits to a dozen towns or so I had been able to gather as much funds as were necessary to start the Irish party again on their long and checkered journey to the goal of their purposes. I got plenty of warnings that any such course was now impossible. I learned that the enemies of our party—so impotent with all their loud shoutings on all previous occasions—had for once and at last become the spokesmen of at least the masses of the Irish people.

My mind was made up at once—no public meetings for the present; but quiet, silent, steady work; patience and confidence in inevitable events and in time; and for the moment an entire change of my plans.

For a time, moreover, I was paralyzed in any effort to fulfill my mission by another factor. New York, it is well known, is exceptionally hot in the summer months, and nobody who has any means remains in its torrid streets. That meant that all the saner Irishmen—those in position or of wealth—were not to be found in New York, and thus I was equally balked in any attempt to get at either the poor or the rich, the sane or the insane. But though the heat was great in New York, I cannot say I suffered from it nearly as much as I anticipated.

I had never been in the country before at that season, and I found that accordingly I had to revise some of my impressions derived from my knowledge of the America of the spring, winter and autumn. America in the three reasons has no resemblance whatever to America in summer. I had invitations to various seaside resorts in different parts of the country, among others to the coast of Massachusetts and the coast of Jersey. Never shall I forget the impression made upon me by a day's motoring along the coast of Massachusetts. I was staying at Cohasset with my friend Mr. Clarence W. Barron, one of the most powerful financial journalists in America, and my ride was from his house along almost the entire coast to the house in which the famous Col. House spends his summer vacation, fleeing from the impossible heat of his native Texas.

To say that I saw a stream of motors driving along the roads from Boston to the seaside gives but a very imperfect idea of the astounding spectacle which unfolded itself before my eyes on that wondrous sunny Sunday. The speed at which the motors drove, the absolute uninterruptedness of the stream, so that I thought that I saw motors, not by the hundreds or thousands, but by the tens of thousands; the fierce rush to the sea and its cool and its pleasure; the crowds on every seashore so thick that they sometimes appeared like ants instead of human beings, the universal impression of youth and unbounded gaiety that made you think of a world returned to careless and joyous infancy—all these things conveyed to my almost blinded eyes and dumfounded brain an idea of opulence, of lightheartedness, of elemental fierceness in the pursuit of amusement quite new in my hitherto rather sombre views of American life.

Another impression I must mention. I have heard Americans themselves avow that they had nothing in their country to equal the splendid and ordered comfort of our towns such as Brighton and Bournemouth. I saw on these coasts of America a series of towns which could challenge favorable comparison with our own best seaside resorts. These towns, nestling as close to each other as the towns outside Dublin, closer than any series of towns on the English coast, seemed to differ in one being more beautiful than the other. The dwellings especially, of course, of the well-to-do, were palaces rather than houses, and yet they fitted well into these seaside sceneries, for though large and luxurious, they were built very often of wood, and this gave them a lightness that explained away their size. They had, too, in the fortunate climate of this land, balconies all around most of them. In some respects these American seaside resorts are more like France than England. There is the same mild bathing, the same prettiness and variety of bathing dress, and the same extension of the visit to the sea to nearly all the hours of the long day; not the hurried morning dip that is characteristic of our seaside manners.

There was another feature of these seaside resorts that struck me. It had already struck me in New York, and that was the astounding delight that Americans take in the dance. For some months I saw people dancing everywhere, and people of all ages, old often as eagerly as the young; and the dance as frequent, as continuous, often as wild in the small hours of the morning and in the afternoon as in the evening. Not the French, not the Spanish, no race with which I am acquainted, compare to the American in the love of the dance. You find people dancing in the afternoon in many of the hotels; you find them dancing after dinner; and often couples get up in the middle of their dinner or lunch and take a turn on the floor. It may diminish—it probably will as the war goes on—I fancy it has diminished already. But for the first few months of my present visit to America and all through the summer America looked to me as a country that had almost gone crazy in its devotion to the dance. It is part, I assume, of that restless, vigorous, nervous temperament which the extraordinary conditions of this wondrous new country have produced. I say wondrous new country—never have I realized, as I have through this visit, what a wondrous new country it is.

DROLL STORIES.

Recognized Only One.

The conversation in the lobby of a Washington hotel turned to the subject of signs when the following story was contributed by Congressman Edward H. Watson of New Hampshire:

An esteemed party named Pat established a livery stable in a rural New England town and, wishing an appropriate sign, he had one painted that pictured a man riding a mule. Just after the sign was put up Pat's friend, Mike, rambled along.

"Oi see," pleasantly remarked Mike, gazing at the new creation, "thot yez have put up a foine soign."

"Yes," responded Pat, with some show of pride. "Phat do yez think av it?"

"Shure, an' Oi loike it," replied Mike, with an expansive smile, "but who is the mon thot's on yez back?"—[Philadelphia Telegraph.

Pert and Pertinent.

A young woman with a pink complexion, but of heroic build—a kind way of denoting obesity—applied to E. H. Calvert, the moving-picture director, for a position as an extra girl. She presented him a personal letter of introduction. Long years ago, it seems, Mr. Calvert knew her father and mother. As he gazed at this plump Juno the light of memory came into his eyes, but still he was not quite certain about something.

"Let me see," he mused, "which side of the house do you resemble the most?"

"Sir!" she cried in accent far from mild, "I don't resemble any side of any old house!"—[Topeka State Journal.

A Mean Man.

"How did you meet your wife?" asked the inquisitive one.

"I didn't," answered the grouchy one.

"You didn't? I guess you misunderstood me. I asked you how you and your wife came to meet, and——"

"And I said we never met."

"I don't know what you mean."

"She overtook me."—[Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Mrs. Wiggs' Rival.

In a South Side street of this city lives a woman who, for optimism and homely philosophy, takes rank with Mrs. Wiggs of the well-known and justly famous "cabbage patch."

This woman, with her husband and family, was seated at the dinner table one day not long since, when a knock came at the door, and a friend called.

"Won't you come in for dinner?" the housewife invited.

"Oh, no," the caller answered, "you have such a large family yourself it would be a shame to put you to extra trouble."

"Oh," was the cheery reply, "one more don't make a bit of difference. All I have to do is put another cup of water in the stew."—[Youngstown Telegram.

Alarming Coincidence.

Two ladies were married to musicians. The one, a bride of a year, was pushing a baby carriage in which were three fine babies—triplets, all girls. The other lady had been in the bonds of matrimony a couple of weeks.

"What beautiful children!" exclaimed the newly-married one.

"Yes," replied the proud mother; "let me tell you the funniest coincidence. At our wedding supper the boys who played with my husband in the orchestra serenaded him and they played 'Three Little Maids,' from 'The Mikado.' Isn't that queer?"

At this the other bride turned pale.

"Mercy," she gasped. "At our wedding supper Tom's friends serenaded him, also, and they rendered 'The Sextet' from 'Lucia.'"—Unidentified.

BY THE STAFF.

Germany has perhaps decided to take Ypres, after all.

The female of the spy species more deadly than the male.

But few cities in the country successfully evaded a lecture by Guy Empey.

Germany has "recognized the independence of Finland" by granting the republic.

The "last man," to which the Kaiser is willing to fight, is not one of his six sons. You can gamble on that.

Chauffeurs must have a license. They must use their own discretion to prevent being run down by pedestrians.

All is not bad in the trenches. Miss Margaret Wilson, daughter of the President, has sailed to visit the troops in France.

Ex-Mayor Mitchel is learning to paddle upside down at San Diego. A democratic office-holder ought to have learned that down pat long ago.

If the proposition to kill all the dogs of the country was limited to the dachshunds we don't know but we would be in favor of the amendment.

It is reported that the California peach crop will be much smaller than estimated. But dear old Los Angeles, by the way, Los Angeles, will make up the deficit.

Borglum, who reported on the battleship delay, is a sculptor. Why didn't he have a horse-trader make some observations on the ordnance programme?

Germany is said to be worried about the number of American soldiers that are pouring into France. And the stream of khaki has only just begun.

Hundreds of marriages are taking place at the various canteens in France. Now, as of old, "Love rules the camp, the court, the grove." So it will be to the end of time.

An appropriation of $32,000,000 is wanted for medicine for the army. Hope some of it will be "hair medicine" and that it will be administered to the Kaiser.

It is a good thing for Gen. March that he does not live in the United States. He would certainly be published to Camp Funston if he got too free with his language.

It is recommended by the clergy that we all join in prayer on Mother's Day, June 25, that "justice may be restored," provided we can do it without ceasing to fight.

Herbert Hoover tells Food Administrators that cornmeal, oatmeal and other wheat flour substitutes will be much cheaper. Yes, that is what he says. What is he going to do about it?

It was the late Joseph Chamberlain who first rung the slogan, "For Pete's sake, hurry up." He had scarcely uttered it until he was dead. Now it has gone resounding down the corridors of time.

Director-General McAdoo will improve the increase in the pay of railroad men of the country approximately $400,000,000. Is this payment under the Adamson law that was passed on the eve of the Presidential election in 1916?

Former President Taft is giving some sound advice as to how fat men may reduce their weight. It sounds like approbation from Hubert Stanley. But why should not a fat man try to get out of the class. Nobody loves 'em.

Italy's colors should fly with those of the United States, France, Great Britain from private homes and public buildings. Over a little alley is doing much to help the great cause of freedom by fighting the Hun. Then twine the flag of Italy with those of other members of the Entente.

The wrist whistle is the latest contraption. The next time you see a policeman holding his wrist up to his mouth, don't think he is trying to bite his cuff-button into the buttonhole. He is only going to blow the whistle. At the quick-lunch counter one blow will be for "ham and," two for "hot cakes," and three for a cup of coffee.

It is proposed that a women's police reserve and a women's military training corps, similar to the Tommy Atkins constabulary organized in London, be created during the war. They are intended to keep order on every block in the city, to detect disloyalty or sedition and in various war activities and relieve distress and suffering.

Do you know that a powerful army of 200,000 infantry, engineers and artillery loaded on 100 ships, with room and right of way, could be conquered this whole country in three months, before the war? The United States and Canada in peace pampered and awaiting conquest at the hands of any army? The British empire saved democracy on this continent.

THE AMERICAN MOTHER.

I have no regret I bore them—
These sons gone forth to war.
For America I reared them.
And though my heart is sore
I lay them on her altar.
Nor ask for privilege more.
They would not shirk, these sons of mine;
They heard their country's call.
Theirs was to do and not repine.
Gladly they gave their all.
Sore was my heart at parting.
I kept the tears back then.
I tried to hide the smarting—
Thank God, my sons are men.

committees, last evening issued the following statement:

subscribers to the Red Cross fund who are not familiar with the location of their precinct voting places, as designated by the precinct captains, are advised that precinct headquarters will be open at the Polling Precinct Headquarters of the committee. Your certificate of subscription, no matter where you have left your subscription, must be presented at your precinct headquarters in the morning, otherwise you will be called for a Red Cross subscription.

precinct captains are distributing a second Red Cross war bulletin, which explains in detail particularly about how you may subscribe at your precinct headquarters. On the back of the bulletin that will be delivered at your home is the address and number of your precinct headquarters. You are advised to read it carefully and go to your precinct headquarters and make your subscription. Unless you subscribe at your precinct headquarters or take your certificate of subscription there, you will not be recorded properly as you should be. In each precinct headquarters there will be a list on display publicly of every person in that precinct and when you subscribe or hand in your certificate, your subscription will be marked up."

A telegram has been received at local headquarters from the Washington Red Cross headquarters stating that the Senate has unanimously passed the bill authorizing National banks to contribute to the second Red Cross war fund, and that the Comptroller of Currency has strongly recommended the bill, and that there is assurance that the House of Representatives will take similar action.

proceeds of the entertainment, which will be one of the largest social affairs given in California, will be used to purchase and equip a Red Cross ambulance and send it to France with a driver. Already twelve young men have volunteered to drive the ambulance.

The workers last night reported splendid progress in securing talent for the entertainment, great enthusiasm being aroused by the announcement that there is a strong possibility that Miss Geraldine Farrar may sing. The grand opera singer is to make a western concert tour and if it can be arranged for her to be in Los Angeles on that evening she will take part in the entertainment. Another new feature in addition to those already announced is the Zoelliner quartette.

Those meeting last night to arrange details of the entertainment included: Chairman Salzman, H. W. Frank, president of the lodge; D. A. Hamburger, Alexander Myers, Marco R. RED CROSS AFFAIRS

Huntington Park Started.

Making a splendid start toward its quota of the Red Cross fund, Huntington Park began its campaign at a preliminary meeting at the Woman's Club in that city, presided over by Judge Thomas Cassidy, chairman of the War Savings Committee of Huntington Park. Hugh N. Wells, chairman of the State Speakers' Bureau, and R. E. Chadwick of the Laguna Land and Water Company, spoke, appealing to the people of Huntington Park and vicinity to give until the little city had manifolded its share many times over.

"Let's start now," cried Mr. Wells, at the close of his speech, picking up a bouquet of roses which decorated the speakers' table. "How much money for the greatest mother in the world will you mothers who are here give for this?"

The more than 700 women began bidding, and the bouquet was knocked down for $10. Other bouquets were handed up, and Messrs. Wells, Chadwick and Cassidy auctioned them off until almost $60 had been realized.

Many Subscriptions.

Other meetings in the interest of the Red Cross drive, under the auspices of the State Speakers' Bureau were held last night as follows: Moneta Chapter, O.E.S., at the Masonic Temple, Sixty-first street and Moneta avenue, with Judge Leslie Hewitt as the principal speaker; at the San Fernando Academy, addressed by Rev. Dan R. Trundle; Modern Woodmen of America, at San Dimas, addressed by Attorney John Beardsley; Occident Chapter, O.E.S., at Downey, addressed by John McGonnigle. Subscriptions and pledges to the fund to a large amount were made at each of these meetings.

Spiritualists Helping.

Tonight J. P. Dunne of the speakers' bureau will head a drive at the meeting of the Fraternal Brotherhood of Spiritualists, to be held at No. 521 West Pico street. Thursday night Mr. Dunne will be the leading speaker at a rally to be held by Whittier Camp, No. 7264, in Moose Hall, in Whittier.

At the Kinema Tearoom.

Ella Hall will be the guest of honor at the Kinema tearoom today, and the hostesses will be Mrs. Emil Kehrlein, Mrs. Phelps Reed, Mrs. G. H. Paine, Miss Dorothy Armstrong and Mrs. Raymond Bradford. The two attractions for the day will be bridge and a quilting party. Two dollars is the price of a table for bridge, and this includes a prize of a matinee pass for one month to the Kinema Theater. Four quilts are to be knotted with zephyr today. The quilts have been donated by Mrs. W. A. Foreman. Two were made twenty-five years ago in Virginia by Mrs. Foreman's grandmother, who was then 90 years old. The other quilts are made of scraps of gray and white from the uniform department at the Red Cross shop of which Mrs. Foreman is chairman. Mrs. M. Hanson, who is her assistant, has charge of the uniform department in Mrs. Foreman's absence.

Red Cross Shop Bargains.

This is bargain day at the Red Cross Shop, and lunch will be served by Mrs. Edward Crawley and Mrs. Frank Fenton. A pair of officers' leather boots with boot trees, valued at $50, is for sale at the Red Cross Shop in the men's apparel department, for $25. Ten pairs of brand new tan silk ladies' stockings have been donated to Mrs. Harry Lombard's department. For sale also is one Pope-Hartford 1914 model, for $350. This machine has self-starter and is in good condition. Ask for Clair N. Norris at the Normal Garage. This money goes to the Red Cross.

WIVES OF ENLISTED MEN LOOKED AFTER.

HOME SERVICE DEPARTMENT OF THE RED CROSS DOING NEEDED WORK.

When Col. B. B. Ray, secretary of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Welfare Commission, at a conference in the Mayor's office yesterday morning, concluded an earnest appeal for aid for wives and others dependent upon enlisted men, Mrs. Rebecca Goldman, representing the home service department of the Red Cross, made it plain that there is no cause for alarm over the situation. She asserted that the Red Cross has adequate funds and plenty of workers to look after the interests of all the deserving ones.

Col. Ray, who is an ex-army officer, blamed the Vernon resorts for luring many of the wives of enlisted men from the paths of rectitude. He told several pathetic stories. One woman he said called him by telephone the other day and said she had been out to Vernon all night with a fellow who even took her hat and some other wearing apparel. She said she needed help immediately.

After Col. Ray had cited a few instances Mrs. Goldman interrupted and declared she wished to tell of the work being done by the home service department. She said that 650 cases have been attended to recently and that there is plenty of money in the fund to take care of the women and children who deserve it. She admitted there are many sad cases, but declared that if the Soldiers' and Sailors' Welfare Commission will go to the trouble of reporting needy cases, all of them will be taken care of.

The Red Cross has been spending as much as $2600 monthly in doing this sort of relief work and is prepared to go much further, according to Mrs. Goldman.

Accompanying Mrs. Goldman was Mrs. Elizabeth McManus, while F. W. Blanchard, president of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Welfare Commission, also was present.

The Finance Committee of the Council was invited to the conference by Mayor Woodman.

INCORPORATIONS.

The Otts Film Company, incorporators, William J. Otts, L. Y. Otts, F. M. Donahue, George W. Bush and Eugene Walsh, capital stock $200,000, subscribed, $25. Fred E. Vincent, Inc., incorporators, Fred E. Vincent, Almira M. Vincent and Alice Raphael, capital stock $10,000, subscribed $20.

IN CRIMINAL CASES.

There will be no session of the county grand jury this week, but the Committee on Criminal Complaints will hold a session today. Deputy District Attorney Selph will have charge of the committee. It is understood that a number of important cases are being considered.

Tolbert.

PAST RECORD AGAINST HIM.

Electrical Worker Who Pulled Switch a Deserter?

Probation Officer Makes an Unfavorable Report.

Accused Denies Charge and will File Affidavits.

Henry L. Tolbert, recently found guilty by a jury in Judge Houser's court of pulling a switch at substation No. 2 of the Southern California Edison Company on the night of March 13, last, was confronted yesterday, when he appeared for a hearing on his application for probation, with a report by Capt. A. C. Dodds, probation officer, adverse to the young electrician.

Mr. Tolbert, who was charged with having admitted that he had been asked to throw the switch and thereby help a strike on at the plant, had received a second mate's commission in the merchant marine and desired to go into the service. Capt. Dodds reported that from Mr. Tolbert's past record he deemed it his duty to inform the Shipping Board that the electrician is not a fit person to be placed in a position of authority on board deep-sea ships conveying men, munitions and materials for the battle front in France.

The report states Capt. Dodds was reliably informed that Mr. Tolbert admitted he had pulled the switch at the instigation of certain members "of the Electricians' Labor Union, who were at that time on strike."

Capt. Dodds was also told by a yeoman that Mr. Tolbert admitted to him that he had been a deserter and served a part of his sentence for that offense. It also appeared that he had been discharged for drunkenness at the Lytle Creek plant of the Edison company on April 6, 1918.

Mr. Tolbert denied the allegations of the report and asked leave to file counter-affidavits. Judge Houser granted the motion and continued the hearing of the application for probation until next Monday.

LOS ANGELES RED CROSS PARADE.

Did you hear the gentle cadence, on our city's paved street,
Of the feet that rock the cradle, to lullabies so sweet?
Did you see those wives and mothers, sweethearts, loyal, brave and true,
As they marched to tell the Kaiser that we're one to see this through?
If you caught that hidden music, as it rolled along our street,
You have heard a mighty anthem, with a harmony complete;
You have seen a wondrous vision, that foretells a newborn day,
When mankind has found his helpmeet—comrades joined for any fray.

T. W. ROBINSON.

JOY-RIDING IN CITY AUTOS IS CONDEMNED.

CITIZEN'S INDIGNANT PROTEST IS SUPPORTED BY COUNCILMAN.

Discussing a complaint made yesterday by a citizen against the reckless expenditure of the city's money in maintaining automobiles for employees who misuse them, Councilman Mallard said there is no doubt about the truth of the statement. He charged that some of the employees take the city's automobiles on joy-rides and use them after hours on the working days of the week and all day Sunday.

"It is a shame that we must sit idly by and let this outrage go on," said Mr. Mallard. "Not long ago I saw twelve city machines lined up in front of a suburban restaurant. It was after working hours and those employees had no right to be using the cars at that time. I am satisfied that the city is losing thousands of dollars annually through this recklessness."

Chairman Reeves of the Supply Committee said he believed the complaint a little magnified, but suggested that the situation can be easily remedied if the city will build a municipal garage. The matter was referred to his committee.

FIND ERROR; WANTED MAN GETS FREEDOM.

Because of an error in the papers issued by Gov. Stephens for the extradition of Frank J. Pearing to Glendale, Ariz., where he is wanted on a charge of removing his assets from the State for the purpose of defrauding his creditors, Superior Judge Craig yesterday allowed the writ of habeas corpus. The discharge of the prisoner and the return of his $1000 cash bail followed.

It Keeps the Engine Young!

Experts agree in recommending ZEROLENE because it keeps the engine young—full-powered, smooth-running, and economical in fuel and oil consumption.

The majority of motorists are now using ZEROLENE, because they have learned by experience that there is no better oil to be had.

Correctly refined from selected California asphalt-base crude, ZEROLENE gives perfect lubrication with less wear and less carbon deposit. Less wear because ZEROLENE keeps its lubricating body at cylinder heat. Less carbon because, being made from asphalt-base crude, it burns clean and goes out with exhaust.

ZEROLENE is the correct oil for all types of automobile engines. It is the correct oil for your automobile. Get our lubrication chart showing the correct consistency for your car.

Correct Lubrication for the "T"-Head Type Engine

The "T"-Head engine, illustrated here, is one of several types in popular use today. Engines of this type, like all internal combustion engines, require an oil that maintains its full lubricating qualities at cylinder heat, burns clean in the combustion chambers and goes out with exhaust. ZEROLENE fills these requirements perfectly, because it is correctly refined from selected California asphalt-base crude.

ZEROLENE is made in several consistencies to meet with scientific exactness the lubrication needs of all types of automobile engines. Get our "Correct Lubrication Chart" covering your car. At dealers everywhere and Standard Oil Service Stations.

PRICES OF SECURITIES FLUCTUATE VIOLENTLY.

Technical Conditions Primary Reason for Reaction After Strong Opening.

NEW YORK, May 20.—Stocks fluctuated with extreme violence during today's irregular session, prices rising and falling several times on a further large volume of operations.

From a strong opening, based on the liberal attitude of the administration toward the railroads, the market soon reacted. Partial rallies at midday were succeeded by more extensive declines when rumors of friction between the War Board and the steel producers gained currency.

In point of fact, the reversals, which ran from 2 to 6 points, were primarily due to the marked change in technical conditions. Last week's extensive advance afforded a foundation for fresh selling of the more vulnerable issues, notably industrials and equipments.

The more erratic features of these groups included United States Steel, which made a net decline of 2½ points after having started with a substantial gain; Republic Iron, which replaced a one-point rise with a 2-point loss, and Baldwin Locomotive, which repeated last week's gyrations at an extreme advance of 6 points, half of which was later yielded.

Shipping, oils, motors and utilities followed a similar course within narrower limits, reacting 2 to 4 points, and standard rails cancelled the greater part of their 1 to 2-point advances. Sales amounted to 1,030,000 shares.

Time money was in scant supply, but call loans were relatively easy, despite last week's contraction of bank reserves. Foreign remittances were virtually unaltered.

Incidental bonds, including Liberty issues, were again inclined to ease, internationals also shading. Total sales, par value, aggregated $5,650,000.

United States bonds (old issues) were unchanged on call.

HOLD FUNERAL OF SAN DIEGO PIONEER.

WAS ONE OF FIRST AMERICANS BORN IN CITY—BECAME VALLEY RANCHER.

Funeral services were held yesterday at the parlor of Pierce Bros. for Joseph A. Allison, one of the first Americans born in the city of San Diego. Mr. Allison was 64 years of age. He died Saturday at his home, No. 621½ North Heliotrope drive, after a lingering illness.

In San Diego Mr. Allison was for many years a prominent business man, and only retired from this line of activity to enter the cattle-raising in the locality that is now Imperial Valley.

He was for several years deputy collector of the port located at Calexico, retaining this position up to about a year ago. Here, due to his ceaseless efforts in behalf of the people and on account of his high character, Mr. Allison added many names to his list of friends.

Mr. Allison leaves two sons and a daughter: Chester Allison, engineer for the Blythe enterprise on the Colorado, and for a number of irrigation companies in Imperial Valley; Mrs. Sidney McHarg of Calexico, and Robert C. Allison, an architect of this city.

The body was interred at Inglewood Cemetery.

TODD TO BE RETIRED.

Assistant Fire Chief, Who Was Shot by Mexican, will be placed on Pensioner List.

John G. Todd will be retired from the Fire Department at the end of the fiscal year, the pension board yesterday placing his name on the pension roll.

As assistant Fire Chief he lost a leg two years ago when shot by a Mexican. An attempt has been made to create a position for him which would require no moving round, but there has been considerable objection to the plan.

President Farmer of the Council is strongly in favor of making a job for Mr. Todd, declaring that he is competent to do clerical work and will not be satisfied to draw only a pensioner's salary.

"RUSSELLITE" TO FACE JURY.

Bible Student Goes to Trial in Federal Court Today.

Alleged to Have Circulated "Finished Mystery."

Doctor is Held to Answer on Espionage Charge.

Possibly the first of many trials throughout the United States involving the circulation of "The Finished Mystery," by members of the International Bible Students' Association, the trial of J. J. Eaggleston of Pasadena, charged with violation of the Espionage Act, will be started before Federal Judge Bledsoe this morning.

Eaggleston's case is the first of five defendants arrested in Southern California in connection with the dissemination of the alleged seditious book in Southern California.

Federal grand jury action is awaited in the case of the twenty-eight members of the local branch of the International Bible Students' Association, who were arrested three weeks ago on a similar charge with respect to the circulation of "The Kingdom News," a publication printed in New York City. Thousands of copies of this periodical, it is declared, were distributed broadcast over California before the government stepped in and made arrests.

Dr. W. C. Langhorst, arrested last week and charged with violation of the Espionage Act, in circulating a pamphlet entitled "Reduced Privileged Class Education," was released on $5000 bonds furnished by friends by Commissioner Long yesterday.

The physician, who was graduated from a Berlin medical school, and recently came to California from Aurora, Ill., is declared to be a Socialist of the extremist type. So far, it was stated, nothing has transpired with regard to disclosing Dr. Langhorst's alleged pro-German activities in Southern California. He resides with his family at No. 1542 St. Andrews place.

LANGHORST'S BOOKS SEIZED IN CHICAGO.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, May 20.—Four hundred copies of a book entitled "Reduce Class Privilege Education" were seized by local Federal agents at Aurora, Ill., it became known today. The author, Dr. W. C. Langhorst, formerly of Aurora, recently was arrested in Los Angeles, where the books will be sent to be used in the prosecution of charge of violation of the Espionage Act.

WILL HEAR MOTION ON LEWIS APPEAL.

STATE SUPREME COURT TO PASS ON COUNTY AUDITOR MATTER NEXT MONTH.

A motion to dismiss the appeal of Walter A. Lewis, former County Auditor, from the Superior Court decision denying a writ of prohibition, will be heard before the State Supreme Court at San Francisco on June 3, at 10 a.m. Notice to this effect was served on Lewis and his attorney, George L. Sanders, yesterday.

The motion for dismissal was filed yesterday by County Counsel A. J. Hill, representing Timothy Spellacy, C. H. Windham and Charles R. Burger, members of the Civil Service Commission, on the ground that the transcript of the record in the case was not filed with the clerk of the Supreme Court within forty days after the appeal was perfected. The motion was based on the affidavit of David R. Parries.

Lewis was dismissed by the Civil Service Commission on a number of charges involving incompetency, and applied for a writ of prohibition to restrain the commission from ousting him, which was denied on January 21 by Judge Taft. He appealed to the higher court from this judgment on February 1.

MANY WORK FOR FETE.

Large Number of Britishers Assist in Preparing for Empire Day Celebration.

The many Britishers who are working to make the celebration of Empire Day at Shrine Auditorium on Friday a real British affair are to be represented tonight at British Ambulance Society headquarters. Harry Crouch, who is in charge of the programme, will assign each to his or her particular place this evening.

The response thus far has been remarkable and the Britishers are united under the leadership of Arthur Letts, who has assumed the guidance of the combined British societies and as a result the celebration of Empire Day this year promises to exceed all other efforts on the part of the Britishers, who desire to help in the Red Cross drive and at the same time show their zeal and patriotism for the cause of the great world war.

GIVEN WEEK TO PLEAD TO CHARGE OF FRAUD.

Lloyd E. Noble, Los Angeles realty exchange agent, was granted one week by Federal Judge Bledsoe yesterday in which to enter a plea to the charge of fraudulent use of the mails. Bail in his case was increased from $5000 to $10,000 at the suggestion of the Federal grand jury, which returned an indictment against him last week.

Noble is declared to have used the mails in connection with an exchange of $175,000 worth of real estate said to belong to C. H. Cannon of Riverside. Cannon, it is alleged, wished to exchange this property for a San Diego hotel, and gave Noble two blank deeds containing his signature. Noble is said to have made his wife, Mrs. Ceba Noble, the grantee, by putting her name to the instruments and having them acknowledged by his father in law, A. E. Herrington.

Do You Wait for Hot Water?

You'll know what Hot Water Service really is when you get a RUUD

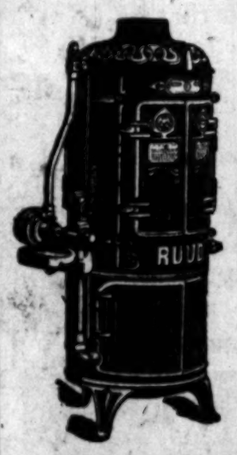
"OUT on the line by a quarter to nine," hums the happy housekeeper who has a Ruud in her home.

Does your wife turn on a hot water faucet and merely hope for the best? Does she have to light an old-fashioned gas-devouring heater every time she needs a little hot water for the baby's bath, for the eternal dishes, for the family washing? Isn't it time to get away from luke-warm water in limited quantities when what you want is hot water and as much as you want of it?

RUUD
AUTOMATIC GAS WATER HEATER
"Hot Water All Over the House"

Hot water, every time you want it, is no longer a luxury. It is a necessity. It's maddening to start to shave, run a bath, wash dishes, or start the family washing, only to find that the water refuses to keep running hot. With a Ruud, you never have to wait. Hot water keeps running just as long as you keep the hot water faucet open.

The Ruud is connected with the gas and water pipes, in your basement or any other convenient place. When you turn the faucet, the rush of the water turns on the gas. It is heated immediately. It pours forth from the faucet steaming, piping hot—clean and fresh, good even for cooking. Contrast this with tank water that is stale, lifeless, and often full of sediment.



The price of the movie or your cigars pays its gas-bills. You may pay for the Ruud itself by our convenient payment plan, if you like.

Call at this office for a demonstration today. Let us show you the facts and figures of the economy of the Ruud. If you can't call, telephone and our representative will call on you. Your plumber will be glad to advise with you what Ruud will best fill the needs of your home.

QUIZ CITY ON BORE PROJECT.

Capital Issues Committee Asks Unusual Question.

Wants to Know if Proposed Work will be Deferred.

City Attorney Seeks Expert Interpretation of Law.

Mayor Woodman and the Council this morning will give an answer to an unusual telegram received yesterday by J. F. Sartori, the local member of the subcommittee of the Capital Issues Committee. The message to Mr. Sartori was as follows from the latter committee in Washington:

"Has Los Angeles City Council deferred tunnel and other large improvements, and is it their intention to apply to the committee for approval to proceed?"

Mr. Sartori transmitted the message to the Mayor and Council, who conferred later with City Attorney Stephens. It was beyond any of the city officials to explain why the Capital Issues Committee had singled out the Second-street tunnel.

The City Attorney said last night it was his opinion that some of the local opponents of the project have been sending personal telegrams to the Capital Issues Committee. That these protestants may have misrepresented the facts was generally believed around the City Hall.

This morning the City Attorney will make an official report to the Council in connection with his visit last week to San Francisco to see John Perrin of the subcommittee of the Capital Issues Committee. The City Attorney will advise the Council that if it does not assume a belligerent attitude that such projects as the Second-street tunnel and Broadway opening will be given the approval of the committee.

Last night the City Attorney sent a telegram to the Capital Issues Committee asking for its specific interpretation of the War Finance Corporation Act and also whether Los Angeles will be expected to ask for approval of the committee for improvements costing less than $100,000.

IS ORDERED EAST.

Dr. Walter C. S. Koebig, son of A. H. Koebig, the local consulting engineer, has been ordered East from Fort Riley, Kan., according to word received by his father yesterday. Dr. Koebig is a lieutenant in the orthopedic division of the Medical Reserve Corps. A. H. Koebig has just recovered from the severe effects of a street-car accident, which confined him to his home for several weeks.

Annual.

SUPERVISORS MEET TODAY.

County Officials from All Over State Arrive.

Many to Speak During Three-Day Convention.

John J. Hamilton to Deliver Address of Welcome.

The official registration bureau of the Supervisors attending the Eighth Annual Convention of the Board of Supervisors' Association of California hummed with arriving delegates in the rooms of the local Board yesterday. At the close of the day fifty-five delegates and nineteen visitors had registered. This was less than half of the 125 expected. The others will arrive today in time to take part in the opening session in the State Building, Exposition Park.

Today's session will be called to order at 9:30 o'clock by the president of the association, Robert E. Callahan, of Sacramento. John J. Hamilton, chairman of the local Board of Supervisors, will deliver the address of welcome. He will be followed by Franklin Swart, District Attorney of San Mateo county, on "Relation of District Attorney and Board of Supervisors." Other addresses during the day will be made by Leslie B. Henry, and Judge Bledsoe of the United States District Court. A buffet luncheon will be served in the State Building.

The speakers in the afternoon will be F. B. Davidson of the Liberty Fair Association; Miss Harriet G. Eddy, County Library Ogranizer of the State Library staff; Carles G. Johnson, State Sealer, and G. H. Hecke, State Commissioner of Horticulture.

For the remainder of the week the programme is as follows:

Tomorrow: Address by T. B. Talbert, chairman, Board of Supervisors, Orange county; address by Henry J. Widenmann, of the California Highway Commission; luncheon at County Hospital. Address by Richard H. Norton, on "Charities." Inspection of Hospital and County Farm.

Thursday: City of Los Angeles Day. Leave City Hall for harbor inspection at 9 a.m.; shipyard inspection at the harbor; luncheon. Inspection of Fort MacArthur; boat ride around harbor and inspection Submarine Base

Friday: Orange County Day. Leave Pacific Electric depot, 8 a.m. for trip to La Habra, where automobiles will meet car and take supervisors through Orange county, ending with a barbecue at Orange County Park. From there by automobiles to Huntington Beach, where cars will be boarded for return trip to Los Angeles.

HUSBAND "TOO GOOD."

So Woman Said as Reason Why She Couldn't Love Him—He Gets Divorce.

The divorce suit of Uzz Leonard Hood against Mrs. Anita A. Hood, tried by Judge York yesterday, appeared to have been based on the ground that Mrs. Hood did not love her husband and left him. She is alleged to have said regarding her husband:

"I can't love him; he is too good for me."

Mrs. Hood, who was not in court, told a friend that she was going East to experiment whether a change of scene would cause her to change her mind. Mr. Hood failed to bring about a reconciliation. The decree was granted.

IN POLITICAL FIELD.

Woolwine Club is to Honor Its Choice—Sheriff Cline Seeks Re-Election.

The Young Men's Woolwine-for-Governor Club will hold a banquet at the Hollenbeck Hotel next Friday evening in honor of their choice for Governor. The District Attorney will be the principal speaker. Others to speak will be Mrs. W. C. Tyler and Mrs. Steven A. Wiley, Lyle Eveland and Louis Guernsey.

Announcement was made yesterday that Sheriff Cline, who seeks re-election, will open headquarters in the H. W. Hellman Building, fourth floor, this week. His brother, William Cline, will be in charge. The Sheriff is outlining a big campaign, which will cover every nook and corner of the county. Sam Browne, another candidate for Sheriff, opened headquarters yesterday in the H. W. Hellman Building. Mr. Browne is a detective.

Sheriff Cline made the following statement:

In announcing my candidacy for re-election to the office of Sheriff I desire to repeat what I stated before my last election and what, since that time, I have scrupulously fulfilled to the letter, viz.: that it shall be my purpose to fulfill the duties of this office with thoroughness, efficiency and dispatch; I shall faithfully and expeditiously turn in and account for every penny of county fees which—by law or otherwise—comes through this office; and the books, records and accounts shall at all times be open for public inspection. These things I have done during my present incumbency and these I promise for the future.

I invite the closest scrutiny and investigation of my record as an officer and as a man, and rely upon it for a return to this office.

Attention to the duties of my office, as well as the additional problems of war—with which we are all concerned—compels me to forego any personal canvass or political procedure which under different conditions and during normal times might be considered advisable.

Elected, or not elected, it is my intention and purpose to expend what my means will permit me to expend in aid of the Red Cross and the country's necessities, rather than in aid of any local political campaign.

I therefore appeal to you, my friends, and to the public generally, to again honor me with your confidence and return me to the office of Sheriff in August, thus permitting me to devote my entire time and energy to the office, not only in its relation to the city and county affairs, but also in its relations to the government of the United States.

[Signed] JOHN C. CLINE.

GUILTY; GETS PROBATION.

Superior Judge Craig yesterday gave Manuel Rodriguez probation for six months on a charge of assault. The original bill alleged assault with intent to kill, but the grade of the offense was scaled down and the young Mexican pleaded guilty.

LICENSES FOR ALIENS STAND.

Revocation of Liquor Permits Would Conflict wth Treaty with Japan.

City Attorney Stephens yesterday advised the Council to adopt no ordinance providing for the revocation of liquor licenses held by aliens. He said such a measure would conflict with the treaty of commerce and navigation between the United States and Japan. As a result, the Council filed the matter.

The action was proposed by Councilman Olsen, who took the stand that inasmuch as the number of liquor-selling licenses has been limited by the Gandier ordinance, American citizens should be given first choice.

WOMEN'S WORK, WOMEN'S CLUBS.

BY ALMA WHITAKER.

Ebell Club.

"Education in an Efficient Democracy" proved an interesting discourse by Dr. Albert Shiels at the Ebell Club yesterday afternoon. He began by pointing out how radically education had changed since those old days when the solitary idea was to prepare people for the next world, and how different are systems now which must change so rapidly with changing times and adjust themselves to "a fundamental philosophy not yet discovered." Dr. Shiels touched lightly but firmly upon the anachronisms of democracy as we know it today and showed, among many able points, the fact that a very large measure of the once-despised Socialism was really already with us—that food, water, transportation and numerous other departments of life are now in the hands of the government. He had a little sarcasm to offer on formerly prevalent ideas of citizenship which included much taking and no giving, the casual application of the vote, and the indifference of the public to the retention of the right people in office, or the dismissal of the wrong.

He told of the parents who regard the school as peculiarly supplied for the benefit of their particular offspring, whereas, he said, the school is fundamentally an instrument of the State and must tend for the benefit of the whole State or prove a failure. Thus it is not a question so much of what the school is doing for little Harry as for what little Harry is doing for the school. The dominant thing in education is therefore, he declared, that which is conducive to the survival and success of the State as a whole and individualism must therefore only be encouraged with discrimination under certain circumstances. Americans, he said, had been too prone to consider their citizenship duty accomplished when they had registered and voted, and service to the State had not occurred to them until a war came to stir them up. Social service, collective and individual, was the keynote of his discourse.

Following Dr. Shiels, Mons. Guillaume Landoz, Mme. Marie Lantes and Mlle. Camille de Forest presented their mission on behalf of the 450,000 invalid soldiers of France who are not entitled to pensions, but have nevertheless lost their health in the trenches. Mons. Landoz read a cablegram received from Mons. Millerand, French Minister of War, received yesterday, as follows:

"At present 450,000 Reformes No. 2 depend upon the activity of your mission to obtain resources to relieve their misery and to contribute to victory."

Woman's City Club.

Dr. Jessie Russell was given three minutes in which to auction off an antique Swiss wrist watch donated by Mrs. Julia Zuckerman for the Red Cross, at the City Club yesterday, but as the highest bid was $30 and $50 was the reserve price, it was withdrawn. Dr. Jessie took a few fleeting moments to explain that she was not a candidate for office in the club.

The members of the French mission also addressed the club, Mme. Lantes in French, looking earnest, charming, distinguished, but alas, unintelligible to most of her audience. But Mlle. de Forest followed in English and put forward the same plea as recorded at Ebell, asking generous support for the exhibition of unique official war pictures to be shown for their cause on Wednesday evening next in the Alexandria ballroom.

Lieut. G. E. Kimmel, in civilian dress, an American soldier who has been service with the ambulance corps in France, told of a few of his experiences. He was, however, somewhat nervous and could not be heard well. One felt that his description of events when the French retook that famous Hill No. 304 at Verdun must have been replete with interest had his enunciation been more distinct. A good many soldiers find the ordeal of speaking before a woman's club more terrifying than big guns.

For Libel.

COUNTER-SUITS ASK BIG SUMS.

Hollywood Men Bring Rival Actions in Court.

Automobile Agency Figures in One of Them.

Justice and Two Newspapers Among Principals.

Two libel suits aggregating $160,000 involving Justice Harlan G. Palmer, editor and proprietor of the Hollywood Citizen, and F. R. Cyriacks, garage man of Hollywood, were filed in the Superior Court yesterday.

Mr. Cyriacks brings suit against J. F. Humphrey of Hollywood, the Hollywood Citizen and Harlan G. Palmer for $60,000 damages, based on an advertisement which appeared in the Hollywood Citizen on various dates, last April, as follows:

"If any persons who have been swindled in dealing with Buick automobile agency of Hollywood will send me their names, they will confer a great favor on the citizens of Hollywood, and one of their victims. J. F. Humphrey, No. 1911 North Van Ness avenue."

Mr. Cyriacks says that this advertisement is malicious and was published with intent to injure, disgrace and defame him, to bring him into public discredit as a business man, to hold him up to the public as dishonest and to charge that he was engaged in the business of swindling and defrauding the public, dealing unfairly with his patrons.

Such publication, he says, has injured him in his profits from his business in the sum of $10,000. For the public ridicule and contempt into which they have brought him and their alleged defamatory nature, he asks $50,000. The suit was filed by Attorneys W. I. Gilbert and Frederick H. Griffith.

Mr. Palmer in a suit for $100,000 damages names Mr. Cyriacks, Douglas L. Edmonds and the Inquirer Publishing Company of Hollywood for an alleged interview in the Inquirer last Friday to this effect:

"He has told many persons in Hollywood that he would put me out of business and has heretofore printed articles which he knew to be untrue concerning me."

Justice Palmer alleges that this statement is malicious. He demands $60,000 compensatory and $40,000 exemplary damages.

Mr. Cyriacks denies that he gave out any interview and says that he referred the representative of the Inquirer to his attorneys, who were then preparing the libel suit against the Citizen and Justice Palmer.

MANY DRAFTED MEN TO BE RE-EXAMINED.

THOUSANDS IMPROPERLY DISCHARGED FOR TUBERCULOSIS, IT IS SAID.

Re-examination of over 13,000 drafted men who have been discharged from national cantonments on the Pacific Coast for tuberculosis, was announced last night by Edythe L. M. Tate Thompson, director of the bureau of tuberculosis of the State Board of Health.

"Thousands of men have been discharged for consumption when they had not the slightest trace of the disease," Director Thompson said last night at the Van Nuys. "Provost-Marshal Crowder will soon issue an order for these men to be re-examined and thousands of them will be returned to the army."

Mrs. Thompson has recently returned from a visit to Washington, where she conferred with Surgeon-General Gorgas.

"The War Risk Insurance Board also gave me permission to announce that all men who are discharged for tuberculosis, whether contracted in line of duty or not, are in line for compensation," she said. "One of the most serious situations which California has had to contend with has been that of giving discharged men money for their transportation instead of a ticket to their place of enlistment. This money in hundreds of cases was soon spent and the invalided men have become dependent charges upon the State. A new amendment to the general military bill has stopped this, however, and discharged soldiers in the future will receive tickets instead of money."

NEW REGISTRATION FOR ELEVENTH DISTRICT.

A new draft registration for district eleven, which embraces the territory bounded by Ninth and Washington streets and Hoover and Alameda streets, has been ordered by the local exemption board. All young men of this district who shall have reached the age of 21 since June 5, 1917, up to and including June 5, 1918, must register on the latter date at the intermediate schoolhouse, Pico and Santous streets.

It is requested by the board that the young men report for registration in the following order: Between Hoover and Figueroa, from 7 a.m. to 12 m.; between Figueroa and San Pedro, from 12 to 5 p.m., and between San Pedro and Alameda, from 5 to 9 p.m.

FOR NAVY RECRUITS.

For the benefit of applicants who, owing to work, are unable to apply in the day time, the Naval Reserve enrolling office at No. 405 South Main street will remain open until 9 o'clock on Wednesday evenings. The office opened with a rush this morning, and a large number of applicants took the oath of allegiance. They will be assigned to duty at the Naval Reserve Training Camp, San Pedro, or the Section Naval Base, San Diego. Cooks, bakers, hospital corpsmen, musicians and mechanics of all kinds are especially needed. Navy pictures are being shown this week at the Hippodrome, accompanied by talks by Ensign Harvey L. Miller and Chief Yeoman Smith. Bugler Felix Preeg gives navy bugle calls.

SIXTY ACRES FOR SHIPYARD.

The City Council yesterday, at a conference with Mayor Woodman and the Harbor Commission, gave assurance of its support to the proposition of leasing sixty acres of tidelands at the head of the west basin to the Southern California Shipbuilding Corporation. The corporation has been insisting upon a lease of seventy acres, but the Harbor Commission believed that too much territory.

It is expected the Council this morning will adopt an ordinance declaring that the land in question is not necessary for commerce and navigation. If this is done, the way will be cleared for consummating the proposed lease.

TO SHOW WAR PICTURES.

First Exhibit for Benefit of Invalid French Soldiers will be Given Tomorrow.

The first exhibit here of official French war pictures, brought to this country by representatives of the committee engaged in raising money to care for disabled French soldiers, will be given in the ballroom of the Alexandria Hotel tomorrow evening at 8:30 o'clock.

The pictures have been brought to this city by Quillaume Sandoz and Mme. Marie Lentes. At the exhibit tomorrow evening, John L. Mott will act as chairman and Frank Keenan will deliver an introductory address. The proceeds will be devoted to the relief of French soldiers invalided through shell shock, tuberculosis and other ailments contracted in the trenches other than wounds.

Yesterday M. Sandoz and Mme. Lentes appeared before the Board of Education and appealed to the school children, through Supt. Shiels, for assistance for the French war invalids. They were introduced to the board by L. N. Brunswig. Dr. Shiels promised to appoint a committee at once to obtain contributions from the school pupils.

YELLOW PAINT USED ON THE DAVENPORT PLA[illegible]

"DAVENPORT," "Kaiser," "Pro-German," were some of the words scrawled in yellow paint on the warehouse of the L. M. Davenport Company, First street and Santa Fe avenue, shortly after the filing of the report of the Liberty Loan Vigilance Committee that L. M. Davenport, head of the company, had declined to buy Liberty Bonds.

Efforts are being made to discover who did the painting, but though a watchman guards the building every night, he has no clews.

The painting was crudely done, in letters three feet high, on the galvanized iron doors and on a shed attached to the warehouse, facing the Santa Fe depot. Employees of the concern painted out the offending words with black paint.

The Vigilance Committee report named Davenport and eight other Los Angeles men. Mr. Da[illegible] was referred to as follows:

BOARD OF EDUCATION CUTS EXPENDITURES.

POLICY OF WAR-TIME ECONOMY EFFECTS SAVING WITHOUT HURTING TEACHERS.

By carrying out the policy of the Board of Education in reducing expenditures as a war measure, W. E. Record, business manager of the board, under whose direction finances for educational purposes are administered, announced last evening that during the last year a saving of more than $17,000 has been effected. This reduction, computed as compared with the total expenditures for last year, has been the outgrowth of the board's war policy, and while it included the cutting down of some salaries and running expenses, Mr. Record announced that no teachers have suffered from salary deductions.

The sum of $8000, as compared with last year's quotations, has been saved the city by a contract made by the Board of Education with coal mine agents, by which the board has been able to purchase 1500 tons of coal, enough for consumption during the winter by the schools, at the rate of $3.19 per ton, from the Glambastiani Fuel and Feed Company. The saving is made possible by the elimination of the middleman. Mr. Record stated, as the coal goes direct from the mines to the furnaces of the schools.

The Itching and Sting of Blazing, Fiery Ecz[illegible]

Seems Like the Skin Is on Fire.

There is a harrassing discomfort caused by Eczema that almost becomes a torture. The itching is almost unbearable, and the skin seems on fire with the burning irritation. A cure from local applications of salves and ointments is impossible, because such treatment can only allay the pain temporarily. The disease can only be reached by going deep down to its source.

The source of Eczema is in the blood, the disease being caused by infection which breaks out [illegible] the skin. That is why the [illegible] factory treatment for [illegible] skin diseases is S. S. S. for [illegible] edy so thoroughly cleanses [illegible] that no impurities can remain. [illegible] bottle to-day at any [illegible] you will see results from [illegible] treatment. GOLDEN STATE BUTTER goes over."

808nd Aero R. Squadron,
A.E.F., France, April 3rd 1918.

My dear Mr. Tognazzi:—

The second installment of wonderful "Golden State" butter was received yesterday. Like the first, it came through in the best condition possible. To celebrate the arrival of this butter, we had as our guest at Officers' Mess last night Major Hartney, ASSC, USA. Major Hartney was a Captain and Flight Commander in the British Royal Flying Corps, and flew continuously on the front between Ypres and Lille. His operations with the Royal Flying Corps ended in an aerial battle 12,000 feet above the lines — when one propeller blade on the machine he was piloting was shot away by the Huns. Fortunately, for the Major, he was within gliding distance of the British side and with his Observer was able to reach the ground inside the British Lines. However, he was forced to land in a hop field, and both he and his Observer were badly jammed up so that he did not get out of the hospital for six weeks.

The "Golden State" butter served to stimulate the Major to the point where he recounted the above and similar most thrilling events in his unusual, long aerial experience at the Front.

You may be certain that the consignment of butter is appreciated as much as any one thing could be. You[illegible]ily give my very best wishes to [illegible] line and dispatch from [illegible] complete and accurate [illegible]ty days to come before [illegible]

[illegible]es to your satisfaction remain

Sincerely yours,

[illegible] Wyman

[illegible]st. Lieut., ASSC, USR.

"IT came through in the best condition possible"—what a tribute to the keeping quality of Golden State Butter!

It was good to get this letter from Lieut. Wyman—good to feel that Golden State is in the service of Uncle Sam, "doing its bit" in its own way, helping to make life more palatable and wholesome for our soldier and sailor sons over there. (The U. S. Navy used 1,500,000 pounds of Golden State Butter last year and is buying large quantities this year.)

ONCE you use Golden State—it's Golden State "for keeps." Accept no substitutes—for there is none, in butter quality. Besides—as every thrifty housewife knows—Golden State costs no more than some inferior brands
